Cal Lutheran Head Coaches

Bob Shoup (1962-89, 184-87-6)

it weren't for Robert F. Shoup, not only might we not be celebrating 60 years of Kingsmen football, we might not have a California Lutheran University to celebrate it at.

As the 1970 season began, the college was in trouble: Facing a crushing $3.6 million indebtedness, talk among CLC leaders included possible bankruptcy or closure of the school, something that had occurred at a number of small colleges in the late 1960s and early '70s. The 1970-71 school year saw severe austerity measures help the school finish in the black for the first time in a decade, but finances remained dicey.

Then came the 1971 season. After being frustrated by six years in which the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics had ignored the Kingsmen for a postseason berth, it was hard for the nabobs in Kansas City to ignore CLC after the school's first unbeaten regular season at 6-0-2 (the ties came in the season opener at Augustana (S.D.), 31-31, and shockingly at lowly La Verne, 6-6, in the fourth game).

In the postseason, the Kingsmen defense, led by middle linebacker Sam Cvijanovich, hammered visiting Montana Tech, 34-6, and rallied with 23 fourth-quarter points to stun defending champion Westminster (Pa.)., 30-14, in a pair of games at cozy Mt. Clef Field. The finale was broadcast across the Southland on KNBC (Channel 4), with longtime broadcaster (later to become one of the voices of the LA Dodgers) and former LA Lakers star Tommy Hawkins calling the game from atop the tiny press box.

The following February, the Kingsmen and the Dallas Cowboys, who had won the 1972 Super Bowl and were longtime summer residents in the CLC campus, were honored the Hollywood Palladium at the "Banquet of Champions," which turned out to be a financial watershed. As Shoup told Steve Henson of the LA Times for a 1985 story, "The school was well over $1 million in debt in 1971. CLC gained National visibility through the championship, which gave our fund-raisers the impetus to solicit loans from Lutheran church congregations." The mostly interest-free loans were repaid within five years, Henson noted.

The 1971 championship was never repeated although Kingsmen came close in 1975 and 1977, losing the title games to Texas Lutheran and Westminster, respectively.

So, was the 1971 the greatest in school history? Depends which alumni you talk to.

Some will argue for the 1965, the first in two decades of CLC dominance at 8-1 with an offense that led the NAIA with 429.4 yards per game, or any of the teams in 1968-70 (9-1, 8-1 and 8-1-1, respectively).

How about the 10-1 1975 team, which recorded the only unbeaten, untied regular season before losing in the title game, the 9-1 1976 squad or even the 9-2 1977 club, which suffered a narrow loss in the championship final.

Obviously, there were many great seasons for Shoup, from his founding the team with Don Garrison, Jim Kallas and Bob Hage in 1962 though his abrupt dismissal after the 1989 campaign. When he departed, he had posted a 184-87-6 mark for a .675 winning percentage. In the glory years (1965-82), his clubs were 143-32-4 (.810); only twice did they lose more than two games in a season. At the time of his forced retirement, he was the winningest small college coach in Southern California in terms of wins and winning percentage

It's not surprising that Shoup, the 1971 NAIA National coach of the year, was inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame in 2008. Two years later, longtime NY Giants linebacker Brian Kelley, the defensive star of the 1971 championship game and a 1972 Associated Press first team All-American, was named to the College Football Hall of Fame, the only Kingsmen player honored so far.

Overall, Kingsmen stars were named NAIA All-American 47 times, from defensive back Stan Scheiber in 1966 through quarterback Tom Bonds in 1985. Two-time honoree Cvijanovich, rookie of the year in the Canadian Football League, preceded Kelley as a Little All-American, named to the third team in 1971.

Shoup's legacy goes beyond the confines of Mt. Clef Stadium, as a number of Kingsmen entered professional football, led by Kelley, Cvijanovich and the star of the 1975 team, running back Hank Bauer, who was one of the NFL's most decorated special teams performers in six seasons with the San Diego Chargers.

Dozens of Shoup's former players went on to coaching careers at the high school, college and professional ranks. One member of the 1971 team, co-captain and offensive line All-American Rod Marinelli, recently was honored by the Pro Football Writers of America with the Paul "Dr. Z" Zimmerman for lifetime achievement as an NFL assistant coach.

Joe Harper (1990-96, 23-32-1)

When Joe Harper replaced Hall of Fame coach Bob Shoup prior to the 1990 season, he faced a number of problems he didn't have in his previous tenures at Division 1AA Cal Poly San Luis Obispo and Northern Arizona:

no spring ball to ascertain the level of talent returning from a 3-6 team, no athletic scholarships, only two weeks to prepare for the season opener and a plethora of conflicting rules from the NCAA Divisions 2 and 3, the NAIA and the SCIAC, which Cal Lutheran was to join in 1991.

That's a far cry from conditions at Cal Poly, where he had become the school's winningest football coach, leading them to the NCAA Division 2 championship in 1980 and earning national coach of the year honors.

Not surprisingly, all the issues resulted in a 2-8 record in 1990, the fifth straight losing season for the Kingsmen, a rare blip in the school's 60-year history. However, in a sign of things to come the two wins came against future SCIAC foes Claremont-Mudd-Scripps and Whittier.

In year two, however, the Kingsmen bounced back to a 5-5 mark, and in his final season, the club tied for second in the SCIAC behind unbeaten La Verne, led by freshman All-American Fredrik Nanhed, who went on to become the Kingsmen's all-time career rushing leader in just three seasons.

Harper left his mark on Kingsmen football in another manner, too. Among the members of his offensive line in his first three seasons was Ben McEnroe, who would go one to coach Cal Lutheran to five SCIAC championships in six years and four appearances in the NCAA Division 3 playoffs.

Harper returned to coaching in 2011 at Cal Poly, where he is the Mustangs' offensive analyst.

Ben McEnroe (2007-2020, 74-48)

Once. Kingsmen, always a Kingsmen. That's probably no truer a statement for any former Cal Lutheran player than it is for Ben McEnroe, who became the fourth Kingsmen head coach in 2007 after Scott Squires departed to Canada.

McEnroe joined the Cal Lutheran program as an offensive lineman in 1990, Joe Harper's first season, after transferring from Bakersfield College. He was to prove a mainstay of the Kingsmen line for three seasons, culminating in first team all-SCIAC recognition his senior year, 1992.

He remained with the program the next six seasons as offensive line coach under Harper and Squires before moving on to Humboldt State. In 2003, he became head coach at Chaminade Prep in West Hills, where he led the Eagles to four successful seasons before returning to Cal Lutheran roots.

In his first six seasons heading the Kingsmen program, he led Cal Lutheran to only its second SCIAC title, sharing it with Redlands, and then on to unprecedented success from 2009-2012 – four straight conference titles and NCAA playoff appearances, along with 28 consecutive SCIAC victories from the end of 2008 through the conference opener in 2013.

Cal Lutheran nearly made it six straight conference titles, but a three-point loss to Occidental in 2008 determined the conference title holder.

While the remainder of his time at Cal Lutheran wasn't quite as successful, McEnroe's teams still were 59-26 against SCIAC opponents.

No win was bigger than the 2011 game with arch-rival Redlands in the first game played at William Rolland Stadium. The Kingsmen trailed in the "blackout" game (players and fans all dressed in black for the occasion), 24-0 at halftime and were still behind 24-7 entering the final quarter before scoring three straight times fort a 28-24 win. After Jake Laudenslayer twice hit Eric Rogers for touchdowns to cut the margin to three, the senior quarterback pushed in from a yard out for the winning score with 16 seconds left on the clock.

That victory lit a fire under the Kingsmen, who scored no fewer than 52 points in the last six regular-season games before falling in a close game at Linfield in the first round of the NCAA playoffs. Both losses that season came at the hands of the 10-1 Wildcats in Oregon, the first coming in the season opener.

Eight Kingsmen earned All-American honors during McEnroe's tenure, led by defensive back Obasi Dees, who was named to the D3football.com first team in 2019 after being named honorable mention the previous year and to the American Football Coaches 2019 second team.

Defensive end Jacob Calderon also a multiple All-American, earning first team AFCA and AP Little All-American honors and honorable mention on the D3 team in 2008.

Perhaps the best-known Kingsmen during the McEnroe era was the aforementioned Rogers, who shattered all the single season and career receiving and scoring marks in the Cal Lutheran record book en route to first team D3 All-American honors in 2012 and to a standout career in the Canadian Football League. A member of the Calgary Stampeders in 2014 and '15 and again in 2018 and '19, he was part of two Grey Cup championship teams, in 2014 and 2018, and earning CFL All-Star status in 2015 and CFL West honors in 2015 and '19. After the 2020 season was cancelled by the COVID-19 pandemic, Roger signed with the team with most Grey Cup titles, the Toronto Argonauts, for the 2021 season.

While McEnroe's teams continued to battle on the field, they finally ran into an opponent they couldn't defeat: COVID-19. After the 2020 season was cancelled, McEnroe earlier in 2021 relinquished his head coaching duties, which went to longtime assistant coach Anthony Lugo.

McEnroe and his family now live in West Palm Beach, Florida.

Scott Squires (1996-2006, 54-45-0)

The third head coach in California Lutheran football history, Scott Squires joined the Kingsmen as linebackers coach in 1989, Bob Shoup's final season, and stayed on during the Joe Harper era (1990-95) before taking the head coaching reins for the 1996 season.

In his second season, the Kingsmen finished as Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference co-champions, missing out on their first NCAA Division 3 playoff berth due to a 28-21 loss to arch-rival Red-

In his 11 seasons in Thousand Oaks, the Kingsmen finished no worse than third 10 times, and posted seven winning seasons.

While the 1997 teams was the only champion in Squires' tenure, the 2005 team was his most successful. In posting an 8-1 record, the Kingsmen recorded their best record since going 9-1 in 1976. The only blemish was a second-week defeat by then-powerhouse Occidental.

The 2001, 2004 and 2006 squads went 6-3, finishing second in the SCIAC in '01 and '04 at 4-2 and third in '06 at 3-3. The last was a bit misleading since the defeats were by a total of eight points.

As part of their 20-7 run in his final three seasons, his Kingsmen won 11 straight games from 2005 to 2006.

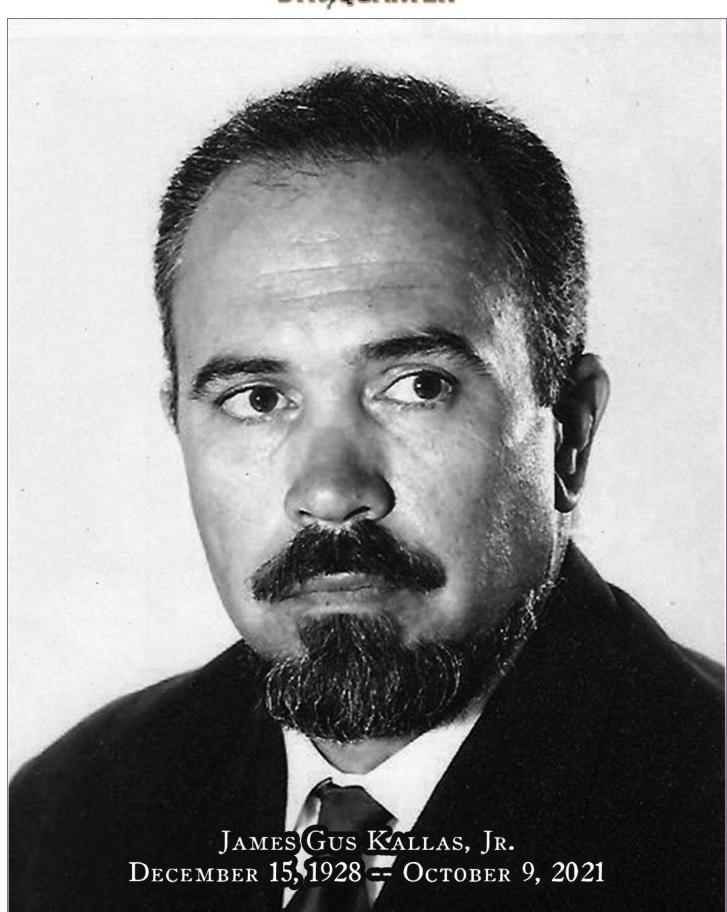

As with Shoup before him, Squires contributed to Cal Lutheran's status as the West Coach cradle of coaches.

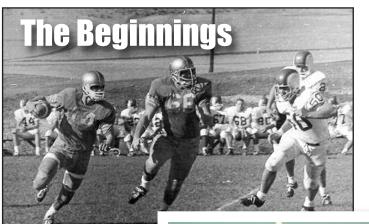

Among his top recruits were Dave Aranda, longtime college assistant coach and current head coach at Baylor University, and Tom Herman, formerly head coach at the universities of Houston and Texas and presently offensive analysts and special projects coach for the Chicago Bears of the National Football League.

Upon leaving Cal Lutheran, Squires became special teams coach for the Edmonton Eskimos (2007) and Montreal Alouettes (2008-09) of the Canadian Football League. In his final season, the Alouettes claimed the Grey Cup, the symbol of Canadian football supremacy.

Today, Squires is a successful Newbury Park-based real estate broker.

hen Richard Pederson, the farmer who owned the land on which CLU was developed, responded to Orville Dahl's, CLU's first president, knock on his door, in 1957, he said "I have been expecting you." In providing the land, Pederson's goal was simple: "I want to provide youth with the benefits of a Christian education in a day when spiritual values may well decide the course of history." Since that time CLU has never wavered. Expecting great things has always been at the core of CLU and it has remained steadfast in defining and being faithful to its spiritual values.

Orville Dahl wasted little time in making the development of a first class athletic program a high priority in CLU's first year. He Orville Dahl wasted little time in making the development of a first class athletic program a high priority in CLU's first year. He hired a visionary athletic director, Luther Schwich, and then set about the task of recruiting Coach Shoup as the University's founding football coach. Coach Shoup in turn brought with him Don Garrison, who was not only a successful and charismatic coach in his own right, but like Shoup a person of deep personal faith. The Shoup's (Bob and Helen) arrived on the campus in the spring of 1962 and immediately set about the task of recruiting the first football team. Along the way he recruited a couple of faculty members, James Kallas, and Robert Hage to help him. Hage was also a Dean at the college. Both of these men became legends in their own right with regard to the development of the football program and the academic tradition of the University.

In the fall of 1962 the first scraggy recruits showed up. There were no fields on which to practice. The gym was under construction, so Beta Hall, the men's residence hall at the time, served as the locker room until Mountclef Hall was finished that same fall. We started with two a days. There was no hot water in the residence hall. The practice field was a small grassy area located where Alumni House (the Pederson home) is now located. Eventually we were able to practice at Camarillo High School. Getting to practice in the bus affectionately called "The White Tornado" and driven by Norm Denison, was an adventure in survival in and of itself.

While the first team began its inaugural season with no home field, Orville Dahl, Bob Shoup, and representatives from the Los Angeles Times, were able to attract a new NFL team, the Dallas Cowboys, to the campus for their summer camp. Working with the Cowboys, the University was able to fast track the development of better locker room and training facilities as well as the creation of the first home field and adjacent practice fields on the north campus. For the next 26 years these two organizations, the CLU Kingsmen, and the Dallas Cowboys, grew into very competitive and nationally recognized teams. Each team reached the pinnacle of competition by winning their own versions of the national championship. The Cowboys helped put the city of Dallas on the map, and Kingsmen football helped to promote and develop brand identity for this new fledgling university in the southwest. Tom Landry was a man of faith and high spiritual values as was coach Shoup and coach Garrison. In fact the "Letterman's Club" as such organizations were called in those days, was named Chi Alpha Sigma, "Christians, Athletes, Scholars." Perhaps Chi Alpha Sigma can become a part of the foundation, history and tradition of The 5th Quarter.

The first season (1962) was the launching of the CLU football program. It was a bare bones program. There was no nickname or fight song. Facilities were limited at best. There was no home field, or a strong student and community following. Those things were being developed on the fly, or sometime in the future. However, in the great CLU tradition, players, coaches and students didn't know what they didn't have. The team's 1962 record 3-4, wasn't as important as commitment and dedication of those first players and coaches. Most of the players came from very competitive high schools and community college programs. They were used to winning and having great facilities, traditions, a fight song, a band and cheerleaders backed by a large and faithful student body that had come to the same home field for years. In 1962 neither the Cowboys nor the Kingsmen had any of those amenities, but it didn't matter. CLU players and those students and faculty were affectionately called pioneers. They pioneered. That's what they did. They laid the groundwork, they had high expectations and they established the mantra for a winning tradition that continues to this day.

by Coach Ben McEnroe

he years 2009-2012 were, without question, the greatest teams of CLU Football's NCAA Division III membership era, and included arguably several of the best teams in the school's illustrious football-playing history in both the NAIA and NCAA. Head Football Coach Ben McEnroe ('93/'99) and the coaching staff, which included current CLU Head Football Coach Anthony Lugo and former Defensive Coordinator Scott "Woody" Beattie ('81), recruited consecutive classes of players that would carry the Kingsmen to nearly six undefeated seasons in the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (SCIAC). The team was nationally-ranked and appeared in multiple Top 25 polls consecutively from early in the 2009 season through the middle of the 2013 campaign. The Kingsmen also made a return to playoff football, appearing for the first time since the early 1980's in four consecutive seasons between 2009-2012, including hosting the first home playoff game at William Rolland Stadium in 2012.

The 2009 team was led by a dominant defense and strong rushing attack featuring all-West Region and SCIAC Offensive Player of the Year Brian Stuart. The team lost on a controversial call in the season-opener at Willamette, then went-on to win every remaining regular season game before falling on the road in the playoffs at Linfield. It was the second consecutive victory over Redlands, a streak that would carry for five years in a row. The defense was led by all-West Region selections Derek Wilson and Justin Haulcy-Bateman, along with all-SCIAC players Matt Allen, Jordan Lee, Roland Jenkins, and Eric Lopes.

The Kingsmen opened the 2010 season at home against the #4 team in the country, Linfield College. CLU overcame a three touchdown halftime deficit behind a staunch defense and 202 yards and three touchdowns on the ground from Daniel Moser en route to the upset win. The Kingsmen rolled to another victory over Redlands and went undefeated in SCIAC play before falling on the road in the first round of the playoffs. The 2010 team featured all-Americans Jackson Dameron and Jordan Barta, along with all-West Region selections Brent McNeil, Luis Villavicencio, and Rian Younker, along with many all-SCIAC selections.

After the success of the previous two seasons, Cal Lutheran entered 2011 with high hopes. After losing a close opener on the road at Linfield, the Kingsmen once again ran away with the rest of the regular season, averaging over 40 points per game and allowing less than 15 points per contest. Cal Lutheran dominated en route to being ranked in the Top 15 for the entire season, and were led by Moser's rushing dominance and the emergence of record setting wide receiver Eric Rogers on the national scene. On the defensive side, cornerbacks Justin Haulcy-Bateman and Luis Villavicencio were both named all-Americans, while Marc Valdez, Rian Younker, and Mosier were named all-West Region. Quarterback Jacob Laudenslayer was the SCIAC Offensive Player of the Year, while Haulcy-Bateman was named SCIAC Defensive Player of the Year.

Deme'Trek Chambers, JJ Gallagher, Frankie Jones, Gio Lapp, Jacob Norlock, Rogers, John Schactner, Valdez, and Younker were named all-SCIAC selections.

2011 also witnessed the opening of William Rolland Stadium. The Kingsmen hosted rival Redlands in a match-up of two Top 25 teams. The Bulldogs raced to a 24-0 halftime lead in front of an overflow crowd, and the Kingsmen came back to win 28-24 on a Jacob Laudenslayer QB sneak and Luis Villavicencio's interception of Redlands' Hail Mary attempt to end the game. The student section rushed the field and the Kingsmen went-on to win the remainder of the regular season games that seasons.

The 2012 edition of CLU Football featured a multitude of returning starters from the mighty 2011 team and very high hopes. After dropping a game on a long field goal, the Kingsmen raced through the regular season without a margin of victory of fewer than 10 points. Cal Lutheran faced a very talented North Central team at home in the first round of the playoffs and was eliminated from the playoffs. Eric Rogers had one of the most prolific seasons in NCAA history at wide receiver, and was named 1st team all-American. Vince Minor and Andrew Pankow were also named all-West Region along with Rogers, who was the SCIAC Offensive Player of the Year. Jordan Austin, Chris Cabrera, Romello Goodman, Ty Olson, and Rian Younker were also named to the all-SCIAC team.

The Kingsmen of 2009-2012 rewrote the Cal Lutheran Football record books on a multitude of Individual Top Ten (Single Season and Career) and Individual Game Record-levels. The team experienced unprecedented success in the SCIAC, completing the most dominant four year run in the long and illustrious history of the conference. The team spent more time ranked in the Top 25 than any team in SCIAC history, and hosted only the second NCAA playoff game in the history of the Conference. Several Kingsmen, including Rogers, Haulcy-Bateman, and Villavicencio had Pro Days and went on the appear at various levels of professional football. Rogers is still playing in the Canadian Football League with the Toronto Argonauts. The 2009-2012 Kingsmen will be remembered as a highly aggressive and entertaining football team, one that dominated the competition and represented Cal Lutheran as four time, undefeated champions.

The Dynasty Highlights

hen the 2009 season opened, it was unlikely that even the most savvy football prognosticator could have predicted the record-setting streak California Lutheran University was about to go on.

Coach Ben McEnroe's first team in 2007 shared only its second Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference with a 5-1 record (5-4 overall), missing the NCAA Division 3 playoffs due to a home loss to Redlands. In 2008, the Kingsmen again finished with a 5-1 conference mark (7-2 overall), finishing second after a three-point home loss to Occidental.

Cal Lutheran opened 2009 with a 1-1 nonconference record and then rolled over Whittier (45-14) and Pomona-Pitzer (48-14) before shading Claremont-Mudd-Scripps, 21-14. After a 49-13 thumping of then nonconference foe Chapman, the Kingsmen revenged their only SCIAC loss from the previous year by holding off Occidental on the road, 24-14. After whipping La Verne, 45-3, they completed their first-ever unbeaten SCIAC season with a 30-21 win against arch rival Redlands, earning their first NCAA playoff berth, a loss at Linfield in Oregon.

Again opening with a 1-1 nonconference record in 2010, the Kingsmen faced Redlands in the first conference game. After leading 22-9 at halftime, CLU fell behind 22-21 entering the final period before a 35-yard Jackson Damron field goal gave them the 24-22 win. Deme'Trek Chambers scored all three touchdowns.

From then on, Cal Lutheran was never really tested, rolling to SCIAC wins over Whittier (30-3), La Verne (49-21), Pomona-Pitzer (38-7) Claremont-Mudd-Scripps (41-14) and Occidental (24-0), plus a 27-6 nonconference win over Chapman. The Oxy game was the finale at historic Mt. Clef Stadium.

Despite another playoff loss at Linfield, McEnroe and his staff had reason to expect great things in 2011.

After a 1-1 nonconference mark to open the season, the SCIAC streak appeared to be in jeopardy when Redlands jumped out to a 24-0 advantage in the first game at newly opened William Rolland Stadium. Daniel Moser got the Kingsmen back into the game with a third-quarter touchdown and Jake Laudenslayer cut the margin to 24-21 with a pair of scoring strikes to Eric Rogers.

A Redlands punt backed CLU up to its own two-yard line with just over three minutes to no play.

Laudenslayer then engineered a 20-play, 98-yard drive, diving into the end zone from one yard out with 16 seconds left to claim a 28-24 triumph. Luis Villavicencio clinched the win with an end zone interception on the game's final play.

From there on in, the Kingsmen were never headed, rolling past Whittier (56-0), La Verne (52-17), Pomona-Pitzer (62-7), Claremont-Mudd-Scripps (54-6) and Occidental (70-20), plus a 61-31 thumping of Chapman. A three-point loss at Linfield, decided when the Wildcats blocked a last-second field goal. CLU's only two losses were in the season opener and the playoff game, both close games at Linfield.

After opening 2012 with another 1-1 nonconference mark, the Kings-men rolled through their conference foes for a fourth straight season, setting a conference record of 25 straight victories. CLU hammered Pomona-Pitzer, 38-10, before holding off Redlands, 45-10. From there, CLU whipped Claremont-Mudd-Scripps (45-10), Occidental (56-7), Whittier (62-38), and La Verne (59-34) before edging new conference rival Chapman (38-28), in a game decided in the final quarter.

Eric Rogers

The title earned the Kingsmen their first home playoff game since leaving the NAIA.

Not only did Cal Lutheran win 25 straight SCIAC games in those four years, they posted one of the best four-year records overall, going 32-8.

Looking for Football Love in All the Right Places

by Chris Erskine@latimes.com

he other morning I woke up to find a football in my bed. Down where the dog should have been, a Football. Guess I'd had a little too much grape juice the night before, at least that's what I'm telling my wife. I snuggled the football. Whispered sweet nothings. Made a lunch date. Spooned.

See, football is more than a one-night stand with me. It's a chronic, lifelong commitment. I've studied football back to the days of Cactus Face Duggan. Yes, he was an actual player (for the Giants.)

Can you imagine a player with that nickname today? They all look sort of cactus-faced to me. As if the game isn't torturous enough, they have to punish themselves with a chin strap across scratchy three-day stubble.

Anyway, I followed my muse--football--out to Thousand Oaks the other night and found yet another thing to love about it: Division III games. The ticket price was right (free), in a brand spanking new stadium on the Cal Lutheran campus. I hate to use the word spanking around college kids, because it just gives them ideas. Believe it or not, I used to be one.

And oh, what a game. Best I've seen all year and maybe in my all-time top five. You have a top five? I'll get to mine in a moment.

First, a few words about Division III football. It's like "Hoosiers," except outdoors. Take away the money, the agents, the NFL aspirations and what you get is football for football's sake. Gee, there are 100 kids on each roster, and the fans are spilling out of the stands and lining the fences, like those pictures you see of high school games

Reprinted from LA Times, October 5, 2011

in Texa

ON this night, the University of Redlands (ranked 13th in the nation) is visiting archrival Cal Lutheran (ranked 20th). Think UCLA versus USC scaled down to where students sometimes dash out of the stands to talk to players along the sidelines before being herded back into the stands. None of the college kids thought to bring a jacket, naturally, so they all sit in the stands shivering and huddled together like puppies.

The caliber of play? Better than you might expect. Most played good high school ball. Maybe they were a step slow or 20 pounds too light. Maybe they came from a messed-up high school program, playing for a clueless coach. There are a million reasons some kids get a shot at the big time and others don't. Just ask any 24-year-old former running back stacking groceries.

What these non-scholarship players don't lack is intensity. In the unforgiving world of the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, one loss can drop you out of playoff contention. Three hours, this game, and nobody takes a play off -- not even a wide receiver.

The night gets off to a rousing start. The student section sings the national anthem so loudly that it nearly drowns out the band. Right away, you know you're in a different place.

Then Redlands comes out and stings Cal Lutheran early. The Kingsmen hadn't given up a first-quarter score all year, and suddenly they're down 14-0, then 24-0 at halftime, largely on the scrambling of Redlands quarterback Chad Hurst.

It's a big lead, almost demoralizing. But something doesn't feel quite settled.

Quarterback Jake Laudenslaver

Sure enough, in a storybook second half, Cal Lutheran quarterback Jake Laudenslayer, a big kid out of Modesto, finds former Charter Oaks High receiver Eric Rogers in the end zone, on a rainbow pass that might have needed FAA clearance. Came down with a Delta flight attendant on board.

Momentum, Kingsmen.

Two more long touchdown drives make the score, 24-21, Redlands still in front. Ant then a punt pins the Kingsmen back on their own two-yard line with three minutes to play, after a harrowing special teams switch in which Cal Lutheran might have had 40 kids on the field, but there were so many the referee crew just gave up counting.

The Kingsmen drive for the next three minutes and 98 yards, on the back of Laudenslayer throwing little slants and marching down the field like Patton into French Morocco.

With 16 seconds to go, and no timeouts, Cal Lutheran scores from the one and little William Rolland Stadium goes frappin' bananas. Cal Lutheran wins 28-24.

"I've been watching these games for 45 years," says giddy alum Dave Starleaf, "and that's the best game I ever saw."

So finally, my to five finishes of all time:

1. Green Bay--Cowboys, Ice Bowl.

2. Boise State--Oklahoma, Fiesta Bowl.

3. Eli Manning drive, Super Bowl XLII.

4. Audrey Hepburn slays the psycho in "Wait Until Dark."

5. Cal Lutheran slays Redlands, Oct. 1, 2011. Worth every penny, this game. Oh, that's right, it was free.

"With 16 seconds to go, and no timeouts, Cal Lutheran scores from the one and little William Rolland Stadium goes frappin' bananas."

The Mystique of The Blue Slippers

By John Leubtow

uperstition and ritual in sports is ound in all sports venues. It is generally something initially developed in hindsight, almost by accident and then called upon in future events. Such superstitions arise when an athlete or team has an exceptional performance and then tries to establish "cause and effect" by trying to link any odd or unusual circumstances at the time with the performance breakthrough itself. After this link is made in the mind of the athlete or athletes, through visualization or guided imagery, which today is the very basis of sports psychology, the athlete or athletes call upon this "mojo" before each competition.

The ritual mystique of the Blue Slippers at then California Lutheran College began early in the 1964 season when our three-year-old football program reached its lowest ebb. Going in to the season, the young Kingsmen had won eight and lost eight after two seasons of suspect competition. Now, after a stunning 13-8 win over La Verne College, CLC was in the midst of a depressing losing streak.

We lost to Occidental 28-7, were blanked by Southern Utah 26-0 and humiliated by Claremont- Mudd 28-13.

The next game was to be our longest road trip to play a very tough Colorado College team, and it was their homecoming game. In early October, the team flew into Colorado Springs and was met by an old city transit bus. We were taken to the edge of town to a very tired, single-story motel. The extra bags were put in the garage storage area among beat-up furniture, lost-and-found articles and miscellaneous hotel supplies. It had been a very long day, and we were tired and did not have much spirit or enthusiasm. We had eaten on the plane so the next order of business was to get back on the bus and go five miles downtown where the campus was located for a practice session. Many players had to stand on the crowded bus.

The college was on a beautiful site and the leaves had begun to change on the trees. We got off the bus below campus at the stadium field level in our game uniforms. The air was crisp and clean. As we began to loosen up and go through a light practice, our spirits began to rise and a vocal camaraderie began to assert itself. We were not intimidated but were like school kids on an outing.

This scene was then overshadowed from above with band music and cheers. Colorado College was having its homecoming pep rally. Clearly we could hear from the PA system that ... "this team from California is in the midst of a losing streak and we have beaten them before and we expect them to be an easy opponent." With that, we Kingsmen began to shout and cheer and the entire Colorado College student body and alumni came over to the edge of the stadium to see what was going on.

The next day was fabulous. Sunny, but cool. We cleaned out our rooms, loaded up our gear and got on the bus to go to the college to tape and dress for the game. That Saturday we controlled the Colorado College gridiron, and as we found out after our victory, the game was recorded for local television to be played that evening. For me personally it was my best single game at Cal Lutheran, with over 120 yards rushing, a long punt return and one touchdown. The final score was 29-6. The line of John Paris, Fred Kemp, Jim Tschida, Cary Washburn, Roger Young and Jerry Palmquist, and Safety / Wide Receiver Skip Mooney and others was stunning. Everything went right. The holes were there for us on offense and not for Colorado on Defense. After the losing games we experienced prior to this game and as history has shown, this was the turning point in our team's confidence and morale and set the stage for the Blue Slippers and the beginning of multiple years of winning seasons, national rankings and a national championship.

That Saturday evening some of us on the team found a "local watering hole" for a little "imbibing" and to watch ourselves on TV. Although we discovered that we were not so welcome sitting there imbibing and cheering ourselves on as we "devoured the locals", but, fear not, for when you enter an establishment with "the big boys"...nobody bothers you.

The next morning as we boarded the bus to depart...the Blue Slippers...entered our lives. We were all seated and ready to leave when Coach Shoup and Coach Garrison entered the bus laughing. Standing in front of the bus, Coach Shoup honored us with accolades about his pleasure with the victory and then he held up this scummey, dirty, disgusting old pair of women's slippers and told us the cleaning woman had found them in my room and wanted to return them to me. Every-body laughed, but with this bit of humorous injection from the coaches and the joy of a great upset victory under our belts, the appearance of the Blue Slippers became identified with a magic moment in our lives...a magic performance, and I became "the keeper of the Blue Slippers" until 1967.

The next week, CLC routed George Fox 59-0. We then won 33-9 over Cal Tech and 14-8 over a very tough Cal State team. The following week, we went to Pomona but the slippers stayed home and we lost 14-8. The legend began. The last game was our Homecoming, and we beat UC Riverside 7-0. After that for some strange reason they became like a "mystical good luck charm", even being hung up in the locker room with a white shoelace for players to touch or give homage to at game time. Then suddenly, they mysteriously vanished.

During the next 10 years, CLU won eight state championships and a national title in 1971. In 1975 the CLU Kingsmen were the #1 rated team in both the NAIA Division II and the NCAA Division III, and even today we virtually control our conference and are nationally ranked.

POSTSCRIP

The Blue Slippers "good luck symbol" has been with the Kingsmen ever since they were found. Although no one is ready to "bet the farm" that they hold a mysterious power that transformed the Kingsmen into the powerhouse they have become, no one is also willing to question this possibility.

The legend will continue...

The Tradition Continues

Coach Lugo on 2022 Outlook

"Forward into battle go the Kingsmen, roaring out again to meet the foe!"

ith a 6-3 season in 2021 under his belt and the "interim" removed from his title, Kingsmen head coach Anthony Lugo admits he is "excited" about the prospects for his team in 2022 in what stacks up to be a loaded season in the Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference.

He knows the path to a conference title won't be easy. "With COVID, a lot of players got an extra season of eligibility, so a lot of teams will be heavily senior-laden."

Given that fact and the fact the conference coaches have picked CLU to finish fourth in the seven-team conference behind defending champion Redlands, Chapman and Claremont-Mudd-Scripps (the same place the team finished last year), Lugo believes he has enough weapons on both sides of the ball to challenge for the top spot and a berth in the NCAA D3 playoffs.

It's not just the 130 individual players he's excited about, but their attitude. "They have really come together as a team, as a family, which is the goal of camp," Lugo said.

He's also excited to be playing a 10-game schedule once again.

Head Coach Lugo

Division III

Cal Lutheran is the only conference team with two out-of-state road games in a year most of their conference foes are staying close to home. The Kingsmen will have their mettle tested with trips to Southwestern (Georgetown, Texas) and longtime rival Pacific Lutheran (Tacoma, Wash.) plus nonconference home games with Chapman and Puget Sound, the latter an unusual morning game, prior to conference play.

Of the 130 players in fall training camp, some 70 are returning lettermen, including eight offensive starters and seven more on defense.

Leading the offense will be two seniors, quarterback Nick Lasher and all-conference wide receiver Cameron Jones, both of whom have been picked as preseason all-SCIAC choices by one college football website.

Tight end duties will be shared by two other returnees, junior Jadon Cline and senior Stanley Asiegbu, taking over from all-conference star Ben Anderson.

Jones won't be the only target for Lasher, Lugo noted, as the Kingsmen return a deep receiving corps in senior Julio Angel, sophomore Tyson Lundring and senior Connor Matzke. Sophomore Johnny Borjas has ben impressive in camp and should see playing time, as has freshman Trevor Cadam.

Lugo said sophomore Isaiah Martin, who played a significant role in the latter part of 2021, will start at tailback.

On defense, the Kingsmen must replace a trio of all-conference stars, defensive end Caleb Casimere, line-backer Connor McDermott and defensive back Zion Brown.

The filling of Casimere's shoes will fall to Shaihi Baker. He'll be joined by a quartet of returnees: junior ends Jackson White and Pete Mitchell and senior tackles Justice Forbes and Maxwell Nazarko.

With McDermott gone, the linebacker roles will be filled by returnees Randall Voutt and Matt Flynn, both seniors, and Ralph Navarro, a junior transfer from Ventura College.

In the departure of Brown, the secondary will see steadiness from senior safeties Gabe Hernandez and Keshaun Charles, while junior Daylen Wilson will man a cornerback spot.

Sophomore Daniel Burgos will handle the placekicking, while junior Jesse Vasquez, a transfer from Utah State, will replace Alexander Matheson (now in camp with Baltimore Ravens) as the long snapper.

This award is presented to an individual the 5th Quarter Football Club has deemed to have gone ABOVE AND BEYOND in the support of the efforts of the 5th Quarter Football Club and Cal Lutheran Football. Don DeMars was the first recipient to earn this award for his exemplary support in both areas over the years.

THE CLU 5TH QUARTER FOOTBALL CLUB IS PROUD TO PRESENT

LLOYD R. "ANT" ANDREAS THE DON DEMARS MEMORIAL AWARD

The "Ant" moniker has been with Lloyd since 1955. He arrived at CLC in the fall of 1962, the first year of Kingsmen football. He was known by fellow students, faculty and staff as "Ant". Professors had to ask him for his real name when it came time to grade! He was a Yell Leader at CLC for two years and graduated in 1966. He became a 5th Quarter Board Member shortly after the Club was formed, and immediately tackled the challenge of developing a system for maintaining a database of Members and contacts. In addition, he manages the Email system for Club communications, Event announcements, Newsletters, and mass marketing.

When Don DeMars passed away, Ant quickly stepped to the line and has managed the operation of the Club Website. He also assists in managing the Club Facebook pages. He developed a billing system supporting the Annual Reunions and associated program advertisers.

These major contributions and his undying support to the 5th Quarter Football Club over the last decade have convinced the Board of Directors to present the Don DeMars Above and Beyond Award to "Ant" Andreas.

OUR MINISTRIES

COACHES Ministry: Coaches are the heart of FCA. Our philosophy in Coaches Ministry is to minister "to and through the coach" to see transformation. FCA ministers to coaches through Bible studies, prayer support, discipleship and mentoring, resources, outreach events and retreats.

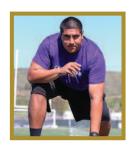

CAMPUS Ministry: FCA focuses on equipping, enabling, empowering and encouraging student-athletes, coaches and adult leaders to impact and influence their campus for Christ. This is accomplished through certified ministry that is initiated and led by student-athletes, sponsored by coaches, supported by staff, established on junior high, high school or college campuses and meets on a regular basis. There are four ministry types: Club Huddles, Team Huddles, Chaplain Huddles and Coaches Huddles.

CAMP Ministry: Camps are a time of "inspiration and perspiration." FCA provides athletes and coaches the opportunity to reach their God-given potential by offering comprehensive athletic, spiritual and leadership training in a camp environment. We create an athletic environment that produces spiritual transformation in the lives of coaches and athletes in a camp setting. These types of camps are Sports camp, Leadership camp, Coaches camp, Power camp, Partnership camp, Team camp and International camp.

COMMUNITY Ministry: With the majority of athletes playing sports in the community (non-campus programs), PCA is ministering to the club, recreational and youth sports teams with the goal of establishing on-going ministry for coaches and athletes to compete for Jesus Christ with character, passion and excellence. This includes any off-campus opportunities such as Team Huddles, Chaplain Huddles, Coaches Huddles, Club Huddles and FCA Sports Teams.

The Davey Spurlock Tighting Heast Award 2022

Having a "Fighting Heart" describes a person who faces great adversity, but lines up anyway. One who courageously and passionately casts aside the fears, doubts and limiting beliefs to overcome and ultimately earn their success. And by their actions inspire others.

At Cal Lutheran we first discovered such courage, inspiration and passion in the life of a student named Davey Spurlock, for whom this honor is named. He overcame overwhelming odds that threatened his life, and went on to great accomplishments, both in football and in life.

Daniel Avila

Daniel Avila is a cancer survivor who has gone through a 2 1/2 year battle with acute lymphoblastic Leukemia, Enduring four rounds of six different types of chemotherapy, brain and full body radiation, bone marrow transplant and eight months of dialysis.

After receiving first team all-Northern League honors twice and an All-City selection as an offensive lineman at Wilson High School in East Los Angeles, Daniel was encouraged by his head coach, Eddie Martinez, to check out Cal Lutheran, because Martinez had two sons who played for Cal Lutheran. Daniel reached out to Coach Anthony Lugo and, to quote Daniel, "because I knew he was an East L.A. cat, and he got me out here."

Daniel played three years for the Kingsmen, earning second team All-SCIAC honors during this period. Former head coach Ben McEnroe was quoted as saying, "Daniel is a special guy. I love having him on the team. In typical o-line fashion, he just goes out and does his job at an all-conference level and is pretty low maintenance.

I really appreciate him and all that he brings to the university."

In addition to football, Daniel participated in track and field as a shot putter, but his real love was sumo wrestling. He was a member of the U.S. Sumo Federation, a group of American wrestlers who compete in tournaments across the country and internationally. The highlight of his sumo career was a bronze medal at the U.S. National Championships.

Daniel returned to Cal Lutheran in the fall of 2021 to finish his senior year and compete in track and field. He was present for every CLU Home football game. He graduated in 2022 with a bachelor of science degree in criminology and criminal justice.

Daniel is currently the offensive line coach at Rosemead High School (alma mater of Cal Lutheran Star and longtime college and NFL coach Rod Marinelli) and is working on his teaching credential.

Daniel's life and football journey exemplify the spirit of the Davey Spurlock Fighting Heart Award.

ames Kallas spent 17 years as the backfield coach and chaplain for the Kingsmen football team from 1961 to 1978. The first professor to arrive on the Cal Lutheran campus and the first chair of the Religion Department, Kallas played a key role in the formation of the athletic programs and helped recruit the first football coach, Robert "Bob" Shoup.

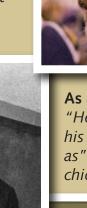

Although Jim Kallas was signed to play professional football by the Chicago Cardinals and eventually ended up playing for George Hallas of the Chicago Bears, his interest in the Christian gospel and higher scholarship led him to Luther Seminary and both the Sorbonne in Paris and the University of Durham in England as both a Fulbright and Rockefeller scholar. After his tenure at Cal Lutheran, he served as President of Dana College in Blair, Nebraska, for which he was knighted by the Queen of Denmark.

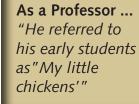

What an extraordinary life he had. A veteran of the U.S. Navy at age 14, he attended St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minnesota with a major in Mathematics and was a Phi Beta Kappa key winner. He was a 12-time letter winner in college sports, lettering in Track, Football and Baseball each year for four years. How good of an athlete was he? His legendary speed in track first established his nickname, "the Galloping Greek". In 1948 he established the St. Olaf record in the 100-yard dash at 9.8 seconds and also won the State Championship in the 220 yard dash at 22 seconds flat.

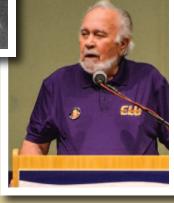

Jim Kallas was a scholar, theologian and author of many books on subjects as diverse as the life of the Apostle Paul, the Book of Revelation, Miracles in the Synoptic Gospels, and An Introduction to Christian Thought for Lay People.

Jim Kallas, once a Board Member of the 5th Quarter Football Club, lived out his retirement years at University Village in Thousand Oaks with his wife, Darlean.

Cal Lutheran Has Become a West Coast "Cradle of Coaches"

"First you coach the person, then you coach the player."

-Rod Marinelli, Ca Lu Graduate. NFL Lifetime Achievement Award Winner.

From the very inception of Cal Lutheran's football program, our legendary Coach Bob Shoup established a strong foundation for coaching built upon the values and characteristics that he had absorbed from his parents, his mentors and his faith. These have seemingly endured through his players and their attraction to and application of these "lessons of life" in their own coaching careers.

- This foundation is based upon integrity; respecting each players interests, life and abilities and expecting this same kind of integrity from each player themselves.
- It is based upon gratitude; being thankful for the life you have been given by God.
- Finally, it is based upon applying yourself diligently towards your interests and your dreams through hard work, discipline, courage, passion, intelligence and a respect for others.

When a coach passes on to his players his own "lessons of life" so that they make it a part of their lives, this is the key to finding happiness and success and making meaningful contributions.

The 5th Quarter Football Club, as part of our quest to honor our Kingsmen traditions, has been trying to find, track, contact and develop a list of every football player from CLU that went into coaching. The 143coaches below are representative of over 170 CLU football players who have followed their playing years with coaching ... and the list is growing. Remarkable!

Football Team Captains are elected by vote of the players or appointed by the coaching staff from the offense, defense and special teams based on leadership on and off the field. Their role on the field is nothing more than representing the team during the coin toss. If they are on the field during a penalty, they are typically the ones who communicate with the referee about accepting or declining the penalty.

He's Our Kingsmen Commander of the Candy Toss

How sweet it is! When the Cal Lutheran football team scores, everybody's sweet tooth gets satisfied by Karsten Lundring, a 1965 graduate of Cal Lutheran who has supported Kingsmen football for 54 years. His tradition of hurling candy into the stands every time Cal Lutheran scores began over 30 years ago. "Cal Lutheran scored a touchdown and I had a pack of Candy with me that I threw, and it's been a tradition ever since."
