Cal Lutheran Has Become a West Coast “Cradle of Coaches”

“First you coach the person, then you coach the player.”

-Rod Marinelli, Ca Lu Graduate. NFL Lifetime Achievement Award Winner.

From the very inception of Cal Lutheran's football program, our legendary Coach Bob Shoup established a strong foundation for coaching built upon the values and characteristics that he had absorbed from his parents, his mentors and his faith. These have seemingly endured through his players and their attraction to and application of these "lessons of life" in their own coaching careers.

- This foundation is based upon integrity; respecting each player's interests, life and abilities and expecting this same kind of integrity from each player themselves.
- It is based upon gratitude; being thankful for the life you have been given by God.
- Finally, it is based upon applying yourself diligently towards your interests and your dreams through hard work, discipline, courage, passion, intelligence and a respect for others.

When a coach passes on to his players his own "lessons of life" so that they make it a part of their lives, this is the key to finding happiness and success and making meaningful contributions.

The 5th Quarter Football Club, as part of our quest to honor our Kingsmen traditions, has been trying to find, track, contact and develop a list of every football player from CLU that went into coaching. The 148 coaches below are representative of over 200 CLU football players who have followed their playing years with coaching ... and the list is growing. Remarkable!

Cal Lutheran's First Head Coach

Bob Shoup (1962-89, 184-87-6)

If it weren't for Robert F. Shoup, not only might we not be celebrating 60 years of Kingsmen football, we might not have a California Lutheran University to celebrate it at.

As the 1970 season began, the college was in trouble: Facing a crushing $3.6 million indebtedness, talk among CLC leaders included possible bankruptcy or closure of the school, something that had occurred at a number of small colleges in the late 1960s and early '70s. The 1970-71 school year saw severe austerity measures help the school finish in the black for the first time in a decade, but finances remained dicey.

Then came the 1971 season. After being frustrated by six years in which the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics had ignored the Kingsmen for a postseason berth, it was hard for the nabobs in Kansas City to ignore CLC after the school's first unbeaten regular season at 6-0-2 (the ties came in the season opener at Augustana (S.D.), 31-31, and shockingly at lowly La Verne, 6-6, in the fourth game).

In the postseason, the Kingsmen defense, led by middle linebacker Sam Cvijanovich, hammered visiting Montana Tech, 34-6, and rallied with 23 fourth-quarter points to stun defending champion Westminster (Pa.), 30-14, in a pair of games at cozy Mt. Clef Field. The finale was broadcast across the Southland on KNBC (Channel 4), with longtime broadcaster (later to become one of the voices of the LA Dodgers) and former LA Lakers star Tommy Hawkins calling the game from atop the tiny press box.

The following February, the Kingsmen and the Dallas Cowboys, who had won the 1972 Super Bowl and were longtime summer residents in the CLC campus, were honored the Hollywood Palladium at the "Banquet of Champions," which turned out to be a financial watershed. As Shoup told Steve Henson of the LA Times for a 1985 story, "The school was well over $1 million in debt in 1971. CLC gained National visibility through the championship, which gave our fund-raisers the impetus to solicit loans from Lutheran church congregations." The mostly interest-free loans were repaid within five years, Henson noted.

The 1971 championship was never repeated although Kingsmen came close in 1975 and 1977, losing the title games to Texas Lutheran and Westminster, respectively.

So, was the 1971 the greatest in school history? Depends which alumni you talk to.

Some will argue for the 1965, the first in two decades of CLC dominance at 8-1 with an offense that led the NAIA with 429.4 yards per game, or any of the teams in 1968-70 (9-1, 8-1 and 8-1-1, respectively).

How about the 10-1 1975 team, which recorded the only unbeaten, untied regular season before losing in the title game, the 9-1 1976 squad or even the 9-2 1977 club, which suffered a narrow loss in the championship final.

Obviously, there were many great seasons for Shoup, from his founding the team with Don Garrison, Jim Kallas and Bob Hage in 1962 though his abrupt dismissal after the 1989 campaign. When he departed, he had posted a 184-87-6 mark for a .675 winning percentage. In the glory years (1965-82), his clubs were 143-32-4 (.810); only twice did they lose more than two games in a season. At the time of his forced retirement, he was the winningest small college coach in Southern California in terms of wins and winning percentage.

It's not surprising that Shoup, the 1971 NAIA National coach of the year, was inducted into the NAIA Hall of Fame in 2008. Two years later, longtime NY Giants linebacker Brian Kelley, the defensive star of the 1971 championship game and a 1972 Associated Press first team All-American, was named to the College Football Hall of Fame, the only Kingsmen player honored so far.

Overall, Kingsmen stars were named NAIA All-American 47 times, from defensive back Stan Scheiber in 1966 through quarterback Tom Bonds in 1985. Two-time honoree Cvijanovich, rookie of the year in the Canadian Football League, preceded Kelley as a Little All-American, named to the third team in 1971.

Shoup's legacy goes beyond the confines of Mt. Clef Stadium, as a number of Kingsmen entered professional football, led by Kelley, Cvijanovich and the star of the 1975 team, running back Hank Bauer, who was one of the NFL's most decorated special teams performers in six seasons with the San Diego Chargers.

Dozens of Shoup's former players went on to coaching careers at the high school, college and professional ranks. One member of the 1971 team, co-captain and offensive line All-American Rod Marinelli, recently was honored by the Pro Football Writers of America with the Paul "Dr. Z" Zimmerman for lifetime achievement as an NFL assistant coach.

Mike Sheppard

As a Kingsmen player, Mike was a member of CLU's 1971 NAIA National Championship team and was chosen "Outstanding Lineman" in the championship game. He had 60 catches for 956 yards and 7 touchdowns his final two years, earning 1971 and 1972

All District III honors and was named to the 1972 All-Lutheran College Team. He was selected to join the Cal Lutheran Hall of Fame in 2006. Mike spent 37 years in coaching after graduating from Cal Lutheran, 19 years at the college level and 18 years in the NFL. His college assignments included: Head Coach at Long Beach State and New Mexico and assistant coach at BYU, USIU, Idaho State,

Kansas and Cal. His NFL assignments included: Offensive Coordinator of the San Diego Chargers, Buffalo Bills and New Orleans Saints. He was the wide receivers coach of the Cincinnati

Bengals from 2007--2010, Jacksonville Jaguars quarterback coach in 2011 and retired from coaching after the 2011 season.

He is in his 10th year working for Fellowship of Christian Athletes as their Pacific Southwest Region Director Coaches Ministry.

During all his years in coaching and with FCA, his wife Cathie has been at his side. They are the proud parents of 4 children and 12 grandchildren. They live in San Clemente, California.

Cory Undlin

Cory Undlin was a teammate of Coach Ben McEnroe during his playing days with the Kingsmen. After his playing years (1990-93) as a Defensive Safety and receiving All SCIAC Second Team Honors, he spent four years with Cal Lutheran's defensive coaching staff. He accepted a graduate assistant position at Fresno State under Coach Phil Hill who had been an Assistant Coach under Bill Belichick with the Cleveland Browns. This led to an Assistant Defensive coaching position with the New England Patriots in 2004 (the year they won Super Bowl XXXIX). This led to further opportunities with the Cleveland Browns as Defensive Quality Control Coach in 2005, Assistant Special Teams Coach in 2007 and Defensive Backs Coach in 2008. In 2009 he moved to Jacksonville as Defensive Assistant and was promoted to Defensive Backs coach in 2010. In 2012 he was hired as Defensive Quality Control Coach by the Denver Broncos and was promoted to Defensive Backs coach in 2013. In 2015 Cory was hired by the Philadelphia Eagles as Defensive Backs coach. The Eagles won the Super Bown on February 4, 2018. Cory was the Defensive Coordinator for the Detroit Lions in 2020. In 2021 he was the passing game coordinator and secondary coach for the San Francisco 49ers. In 2023 he will be the passing game coordinator for the Houston Texans.

Rod Marinelli

If you were to look up the term "football coaching lifer" in a sports encyclopedia, it should have a picture of Rod Marinelli next to the article.

From his first coaching gig, as defensive coordinator at his high school alma mater, Rosemead, in 1973-75, to his retirement after spending the 2020 season as interim defensive coordinator for the Las Vegas Raiders, Marinelli spent 48 years as a college and pro coach, all but three as a top assistant (His one head coaching stint was with the Detroit Lions in 2006-08).

Out of high school, Marinelli spent one year at Utah and two in Vietnam, who received a Purple Heart for injuries received and also battled malaria.

Returning to civilian life, Marinelli, one of three Vietnam vets on the team, played a key role on the line as the Kingsmen rolled to an 8-0-2 record and the NAIA Division II championship. He capped his Kingsmen career with second team NAIA All-American honors.

After joining the staff at Rosemead as defensive coordinator, the 1972 CLC graduate moved on to Utah State for six years (1976-82), five as defensive line coach and one as offensive line and special teams coach. Then, it was on to Cal for nine years as defensive line coach and later assistant head coach. He followed that up with three at Arizona State as as assistant head coach and defensive line coach and a year at USC in the latter position.

Then it was on to the NFL for next quarter century.

First, he spent seven years in Tampa Bay as defensive line/assistant head coach before his three seasons as head man in Detroit.

Moving back to assistant roles, he joined the Chicago Bears as assistant head coach and defensive line coach and defensive coordinator; seven years with the Dallas Cowboys defensive line coach and defensive coordinator; and a final year as interim defensive coordinator in Las Vegas before announcing his retirement after the 2020 season.

Now 71, Marinelli recently was honored by the Pro Football Writers of America with their Paul "Dr. Z" Zimmerman Award, which is named for the former Sports Illustrated pro football writer and given for lifetime achievement as an assistant coach.

Rod and his wife, Barbara (Torres), have two daughters, Chris and Gina. In keeping with the NFL theme, Chris is married to Joe Barry, defensive coordinator with Green Bay Packers, and they hav3 four children. Gina is executive chef at Las Vegas Italian hot spot La Strega..

Hank Bauer

Hank Bauer is arguably the greatest running back in Cal Lutheran history, and one of the greatest special teams players in San Diego Chargers history.

The second of the football-playing Bauer brothers (his elder brother, the late Jim Bauer, played a key role on both sides of the line in the Kingsmen's 1971 NAIA championship season before a lengthy coaching and administrative career in the Antelope Valley), led the Kingsmen to their only unbeaten, untied regular season and a berth in their second NAIA championship game in 1975, his senior season.

At that time, he held Kingsmen records for career carries (502), touchdowns in a game (4), a season (17) and a career (38), as well as yards in a season (1,024) and a career (2,659) and all-purpose yards in a career (2,998).

His 38 career TDS remain the school standard, and he remains the only Cal Lutheran running back to rush for four touchdowns twice in a game.

Taking his talents south to San Diego, he spent six seasons for the Chargers, starring on special teams and as a short yardage/goal line specialist.

In 1981, he replaced an injured Kellen Winslow at tight end vs. Cleveland and caught a 4-yard TD pass. In 1978-79 he served as one of the team's running backs and scored 17 times, including 16 rushing.

In 1978 he was the starter for four games. A year later he was the short-yardage back, carrying 18 times for 28 yards, eight touchdowns and nine first downs.

But it was on special teams that he stood out. He was named NFL Special Teams Player of the Year three times in his six seasons, making an astounding 52 special teams tackles in one season, 1981. He made seven tackles in one game and 147 in his career.

After a neck injury forced his retirement in 1983, Bauer coached the Chargers' special teams from 1983-86 before turning to a career in broadcasting.

He worked 16 years as a local San Diego sports anchor, 17 as the team's analyst on radio broadcasts and continues to serve today as an analyst for Sports USA Network.

Mike Hagen

Mike was a wide receiver for Cal Lutheran from 1976--79. His ranking All Time at Cal Lu is: #3 Receiving TDs; #3 Receptions; #2 Receiving yards.

He was inducted into the Cal Lutheran Hall of Fame in 2007 and was enshrined in the Ventura County Hall of Fame in 1998. He earned Miller Brewing Company's Southern California Player of the Year and AFCA Kodak Division II

All American Team in 1979 and was voted to the NAIA All American 1st Team in 1978 and 1979, after setting single season and career receiving records during those years. Bringing 27 years experience in the NFL in various executive and player personnel capacities, Mike played a key role in evaluating and selecting talent resulting in Super Bowl teams-- Atlanta (XXXIII), Washington (XXVI), Denver (XXII & XXIV), Dallas (XXII & XXIII). He has learned from icons such as Hall of Fame coach Tom Landry, Dan Reeves and Joe Gibbs. Mike is a Strategic Consultant for Competitive Sports Analysis and a realtor. He resides in Lake Oconee, Georgia.

Steve Hagen

Growing up in Thousand Oaks, Steve was a ball boy for the Dallas Cowboys when they held their summer camps at Cal Lutheran.

Steve was a wide receiver at Cal Lu from 1979-83. He ranks 8th all-time in receptions; 10th all-time in reception TDs; 6th all-time in receiving yards.

He was selected to the Second Team NAIA All American Team in 1982.

Steve started his coaching career at the University of Illinois in 1984. He has 32 years coaching experience at the Division

I College level and the NFL. His college coaching career includes: Notre Dame, North Carolina, Fresno State, San Jose State and Cal.

His NFL career includes 11 years between the Cleveland Browns and New York Jets.

After leaving coaching in 2015, Steve moved to Nashville. He started a company where he coached CEO's and Leaders on how to win at work and at home. He worked with Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Coaches Ministry in Nashville, TN., NFL Hall of Fame Academy and also as a Financial Coach with the Dave Ramsey Company in Franklin, TN.

On May 1, 2023 the NFL announced Steve as the Head Coach of NFL Academy UK. Steve is married to his wife Amy. They have 4 adult children.

Pete Alamar

Pete Alamar was an offensive lineman who transferred to Cal Lutheran in 1980 after playing on a national playoff team with Western Oregon. We was a two year letterman at Cal Lu and played on the playoff team in 1982. He is a native of Thousand Oaks and earned his Bachelor's degree in physical education in 1983. He started his coaching career as Offensive Line Coach for the Kingsmen from 1985--1986.

Alamar's specialists and Special Teams have consistently been among the best in the nation during his coaching career. He has coached 8 teams with 10 or more wins including Cal--2, Arizona--2 and Stanford--4 and has been a part of 18 bowl teams. His Fresno State team blocked 18 kicks during his 2 year stay with the Bulldogs. He was named Special Teams Coach of the Year in 2013. He had a Lou Groza finalist in 2022. Pete has spent 26 of his last 30 years coaching in the Pac--12 at Arizona, Cal and Stanford. In 2023 he will be moving to the Rice University Owls as Assistant Head Coach/Special Teams Coordinator.

Pete and his wife Tina have 3 daughters--Alicia, Alexandra and Amanda.

Tom Herman

He was an all-conference wide Receiver at Cal Lutheran who earned his B.S. degree in business administration from Cal Lutheran in 1997, where he graduated cum laude and was a Presidential Scholarship recipient. Herman received his Masters Degree in Education from Texas.

Tom was not only the RECIPIENT OF THE BROYLES AWARD in 2014 given to one of over 1500 coaches representing all 117 Division One college football programs voted on their peers in the world of college football, and the five Broyles Award finalists are chosen by the tally of these ballots. From these five, Tom Herman was chosen.

Having been an offensive coordinator at Ohio State, Iowa State and other ranked schools, late in 2014, Tom Herman landed his "dream job" ...Head Coach at the University of Houston. In 2015, he proved he's one of the very best, in Houston's win over Florida State University in Peach Bowl 2015. Then just last year, he was drafted by the University of Texas to be their Head Football Coach.

Mark Weber

Mark Weber '80 was a two-time Honorable Mention Small College All-American at offensive guard in 1978 & 79. He began his coaching career as on offensive line and strength coach at Cal Lutheran and has coached at 14 different colleges and universities during his over 40 year career. Weber has been associated with some of the nation's top passing offenses and has been in 18 bowl games as a coach, which includes Utah State where as offensive line and assistant head coach he coached ten linemen that earned All Mountain West honors for the Aggies.

He spent six seasons at BYU helping the Cougars reach six bowl games and the 2007 Mountain West Championship. He also has extensive Pac-10 coaching experience. He coached the offensive line at UCLA for 7 years, helping guide the Bruins to five bowl appearances including the 1999 Rose Bowl, and 2 Pac-10 titles. Mark was the assistant head coach and offensive line coach at UNLV for three seasons (1994-96) where the 1996 Rebels ranked ninth in Division I-A in passing and the 1994 team was the Las Vegas Bowl champion. Mark's most recent coaching assignments have included: Fresno State, Hawaii and Washington State. He will be in his first year as offensive line coach at Idaho State in 2023. Mark is married to his wife Kathy and they have 2 daughters.

Dave Aranda

Dave Aranda has made his mark as a prominent figure in the world of college football. With the commencement of his fourth season as the head coach at Baylor University in 2023, Aranda's journey in coaching has been one of dedication and achievement. He took the reins of the Baylor Bears during a tumultuous period marked by the Covid-19 lockdowns, and his leadership has been instrumental in shaping the team's trajectory.

Aranda's coaching tenure at Baylor University, spanning over three seasons, showcases a record of 20 wins and 16 losses. Within this record lies a significant accomplishment—a triumphant victory in the Big 12 championship. The pinnacle of his coaching career at Baylor was reached in 2021 when the team achieved a remarkable 12-2 record, a testament to Aranda's strategic prowess. This achievement earned him the esteemed title of conference Coach of the Year, a recognition that underscored his ability to lead and inspire his team even in the face of challenges.

Before his foray into coaching, Aranda's own football journey began at Redlands High School. However, a fractured shoulder prematurely ended his playing career, leading him to transition into coaching. He commenced his coaching journey as an assistant at his alma mater. A pivotal juncture came when he crossed paths with a friend attending Cal Lutheran, which inspired Aranda to rekindle his aspirations of playing football. Despite the persistence of his injuries, he delved into coaching as a student assistant, assuming the role of linebackers coach for the Kingsmen from 1996 to 1999. Interestingly, during this period, his roommate was none other than Tom Herman, who currently serves as the head coach of Florida Atlantic.

Aranda's pursuit of knowledge continued as he earned a bachelor's degree in philosophy from Cal Lutheran in 1999. His thirst for understanding the intricacies of football led him to Texan Tech University, where he pursued graduate studies while also serving as a graduate assistant for the Red Raiders from 2000 to 2002. This marked the beginning of his evolution into a skilled football strategist and mentor.

As Aranda's coaching acumen grew, he embarked on diverse coaching roles that contributed to his well-rounded expertise. From linebackers coach at Houston to defensive coordinator and linebackers coach at Cal Lutheran, Aranda's journey shaped his approach to the game. Notably, his stint as defensive coordinator and secondary coach at Delta State University added another layer to his coaching repertoire.

In 2008, Aranda took on the role of defensive line coach at the University of Hawaii, where his influence quickly became apparent. Under his guidance, the team's defense exhibited remarkable growth, showcasing talent and earning noteworthy victories. Aranda's innovative defensive schemes proved effective, leading to victories against formidable opponents.

Aranda's tenure at various institutions saw him consistently pushing the boundaries of defensive strategy. His time at Wisconsin, both as a linebackers coach and later as a defensive coordinator, was marked by impressive accomplishments. His adeptness at creating strategic defensive formations allowed the Badgers to secure victories and attain high rankings in defensive categories nationwide.

In 2016, Aranda assumed the role of defensive coordinator at Louisiana State University (LSU), a pivotal moment in his career. His strategic prowess contributed significantly to LSU's triumphant journey to the FCS football championship in 2019. This victory underscored his ability to orchestrate successful defensive tactics on the grandest stage.

The year 2020 marked a new chapter in Aranda's journey as he took on the role of head coach at Baylor University, solidifying his position as a leader capable of steering a team to success. Alongside his coaching accomplishments, Aranda values his role as a family man. His wife, Dione, and their three children constitute a vital support system, underpinning his achievements.

In conclusion, Dave Aranda's path from his early days as a player to his current stature as a seasoned head coach is a testament to his unwavering commitment to the game. His journey is marked by adaptability, innovation, and the pursuit of excellence. As he continues to shape the Baylor Bears and leave an indelible mark on college football, Aranda's legacy remains one of dedication, strategic brilliance, and the relentless pursuit of victory.

Ben McEnroe

Once Kingsmen, always a Kingsmen. That's probably no truer a statement for any former Cal Lutheran player than it is for Ben McEnroe, who became the fourth Kingsmen head coach in 2007 after Scott Squires departed to Canada.

McEnroe joined the Cal Lutheran program as an offensive lineman in 1990, Joe Harper's first season, after transferring from Bakersfield College. He was to prove a mainstay of the Kingsmen line for three seasons, culminating in first team all-SCIAC recognition his senior year, 1992.

He remained with the program the next six seasons as offensive line coach under Harper and Squires before moving on to Humboldt State. In 2003, he became head coach at Chaminade Prep in West Hills, where he led the Eagles to four successful seasons before returning to Cal Lutheran roots.

In his first six seasons heading the Kingsmen program, he led Cal Lutheran to only its second SCIAC title, sharing it with Redlands, and then on to unprecedented success from 2009-2012 – four straight conference titles and NCAA playoff appearances, along with 28 consecutive SCIAC victories from the end of 2008 through the conference opener in 2013.

Cal Lutheran nearly made it six straight conference titles, but a three-point loss to Occidental in 2008 determined the conference title holder.

While the remainder of his time at Cal Lutheran wasn't quite as successful, McEnroe's teams still were 59-26 against SCIAC opponents.

No win was bigger than the 2011 game with arch-rival Redlands in the first game played at William Rolland Stadium. The Kingsmen trailed in the "blackout" game (players and fans all dressed in black for the occasion), 24-0 at halftime and were still behind 24-7 entering the final quarter before scoring three straight times for a 28-24 win. After Jake Laudenslayer twice hit Eric Rogers for touchdowns to cut the margin to three, the senior quarterback pushed in from a yard out for the winning score with 16 seconds left on the clock.

That victory lit a fire under the Kingsmen, who scored no fewer than 52 points in the last six regular-season games before falling in a close game at Linfield in the first round of the NCAA playoffs. Both losses that season came at the hands of the 10-1 Wildcats in Oregon, the first coming in the season opener.

Eight Kingsmen earned All-American honors during McEnroe's tenure, led by defensive back Obasi Dees, who was named to the D3football.com first team in 2019 after being named honorable mention the previous year and to the American Football Coaches 2019 second team.

Defensive end Jacob Calderon also a multiple All-American, earning first team AFCA and AP Little All-American honors and honorable mention on the D3 team in 2008.

Perhaps the best-known Kingsmen during the McEnroe era was the aforementioned Rogers, who shattered all the single season and career receiving and scoring marks in the Cal Lutheran record book en route to first team D3 All-American honors in 2012 and to a standout career in the Canadian Football League. A member of the Calgary Stampeders in 2014 and '15 and again in 2018 and '19, he was part of two Grey Cup championship teams, in 2014 and 2018, and earning CFL All-Star status in 2015 and CFL West honors in 2015 and '19. After the 2020 season was cancelled by the COVID-19 pandemic, Roger signed with the team with most Grey Cup titles, the Toronto Argonauts, for the 2021 season.

While McEnroe's teams continued to battle on the field, they finally ran into an opponent they couldn't defeat: COVID-19. After the 2020 season was cancelled, McEnroe earlier in 2021 relinquished his head coaching duties, which went to longtime assistant coach Anthony Lugo.

After spending one year at King's Academy as Head Football Coach in 2022, Ben has returned to Thousand Oaks as the Head Football Coach at Thousand Oaks High School in 2023. McEnroe and his family life in the Conejo Valley."

Jim Kunau

Jim came to Cal Lutheran from Diller High School in Bakersfield, California where he played quarterback and defensive back. He played 4 years at Cal Lu and graduated with a BA in Political Science in 1980. In addition to his football career, Jim was involved in student government. He was Class President his Sophomore year and Student Body President his Senior year. Jim has been in education over 30 years. He spent 4 years teaching in the Cal Lutheran MBA program and has been teaching and coaching at the high school level for 28 years. Jim was the Head Coach at Orange Lutheran for 19 years and Temecula Rancho Christian High School for 6 years. During this 25 year period Jim's teams have won over 200 games, 16 league championships, 2 State Championships and had several teams ranked in the top 25 nationally. Over 100 of his players have gone on to play college football at Cal Lutheran, USC, UCLA, Stanford, Cal, Oregon and Washington on the West Coast and Notre Dame, Northwestern, TCU, Duke, Miami, Florida State, Harvard, Princeton, Dartmouth, Boise State, Air Force, Army, Navy in the rest of the country.

Jim has received honors as: California State Coach of the Year; Orange County Coach of the Decade; LA Times Southern California Coach of the Year; Riverside County Coach of the Year; NIKE National Coach of the Year; Small School Coach of the Year; CIF Coaching for Character Award and Influence Christian Coach of the Year. He has been inducted into the Hall of Fame at Bakersfield HS and Orange Lutheran HS. Jim had a mission for each team he coached. It is 'BUILD CHAMPIONS FOR LIFE', and forge the foundation that will yield a lifetime of significance and joy. The four core values in prioritized order are: Faith Development; Character Development; Academic Development and Competitive Excellence. Jim has recently accepted a position as Director Concordia University Irvine's Master's in Coaching & Athletics Administration (MCAA) program for the 2023 school year. Jim and his wife Betsy have one daughter Caroline. They reside in Orange County.

Steve Bogan

Steve Bogan grew up as a Lutheran and received a Bachelor of Arts in History Magna Cum Laude and played football under Coach Shoup at California Lutheran College. He received his Masters Degree in Theology from Fuller Theological Seminary and then went on to pursue 30 years of teaching in Comparative Religions, History, Economics and American Government.

He is also a very successful high school football coach, serving over 20 years as a head coach. His teams have won 11 league championships and made 5 trips to the Southern California CIF finals winning four of the five championship contests. His players have gone on to play at every level of post high school football, including the Big Sky, Mountain West, Pack 12 and the NFL.

He is very insightful and a great mentor to young people in understanding how important Christian values are in modeling a successful life.

Tim Lins

Tim spent 28 years coaching high school football. After spending 10 years at Encino Crespi, he moved to Head Coach at Moorpark High School where he coached for the next 18 years. He won over 100 games during that period, taking Moorpark to the playoffs 13 times, including 4 trips to the CIF finals. Hewas also the first NFL ABC7 High School Coach of the Week in 2016. Tim retired from coaching the football team in 2018 and has remained with Moorpark H.S. as a teacher and their Strength and Conditioning coach. In October 2022 Tim was named the first Head Coach of the Moorpark High School's Girls' Flag Football Program. His comment as to why he took the position: "It's a chance to start a program from the ground up. That will be fun."

Tim resides in Moorpark with his wife Mary-Therese. They have two sons. Jake and his wife Alyssa both Cal Lu Alumni and Vernon who also played football at Cal Lutheran.

Scott Squires

The third head coach in California Lutheran football history, Scott Squires joined the Kingsmen as linebackers coach in 1989, Bob Shoup's final season, and stayed on during the Joe Harper era (1990-95) before taking the head coaching reins for the 1996 season.

In his second season, the Kingsmen finished as Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference co-champions, missing out on their first NCAA Division 3 playoff berth due to a 28-21 loss to arch-rival Redlands.

In his 11 seasons in Thousand Oaks, the Kingsmen finished no worse than third 10 times, and posted seven winning seasons.

While the 1997 team was the only champion in Squires' tenure, the 2005 team was his most successful. In posting an 8-1 record, the Kingsmen recorded their best record since going 9-1 in 1976. The only blemish was a second-week defeat by then-powerhouse Occidental.

The 2001, 2004 and 2006 squads went 6-3, finishing second in the SCIAC in '01 and '04 at 4-2 and third in '06 at 3-3. The last was a bit misleading since the defeats were by a total of eight points.

As part of their 20-7 run in his final three seasons, his Kingsmen won 11 straight games from 2005 to 2006.

As with Shoup before him, Squires contributed to Cal Lutheran's status as the West Coast cradle of coaches.

Among his top recruits were Dave Aranda, longtime college assistant coach and current head coach at Baylor University, and Tom Herman, formerly head coach at the universities of Houston and Texas and presently offensive analyst and special projects coach for the Chicago Bears of the National Football League.

Upon leaving Cal Lutheran, Squires became special teams coach for the Edmonton Eskimos (2007) and Montreal Alouettes (2008-09) of the Canadian Football League. In his final season, the Alouettes claimed the Grey Cup, the symbol of Canadian football supremacy.

Today, Squires is a successful Newbury Park-based real estate broker.

The Beginnings

Bob "The Logo" Trevathan looks for yardage.

By George Engdahl

When Richard Pederson, the farmer who owned the land on which CLU was developed, responded to Orville Dahl's, CLU's first president, knock on his door, in 1957, he said "I have been expecting you." In providing the land, Pederson's goal was simple: "I want to provide youth with the benefits of a Christian education in a day when spiritual values may well decide the course of history." Since that time CLU has never wavered. Expecting great things has always been at the core of CLU and it has remained steadfast in defining and being faithful to its spiritual values.

Orville Dahl wasted little time in making the development of a first class athletic program a high priority in CLU's first year. He hired a visionary athletic director, Luther Schwich, and then set about the task of recruiting Coach Shoup as the University's founding football coach. Coach Shoup in turn brought with him Don Garrison, who was not only a successful and charismatic coach in his own right, but like Shoup a person of deep personal faith. The Shoup's (Bob and Helen) arrived on the campus in the spring of 1962 and immediately set about the task of recruiting the first football team. Along the way he recruited a couple of faculty members, James Kallas, and Robert Hage to help him. Hage was also a Dean at the college. Both of these men became legends in their own right with regard to the development of the football program and the academic tradition of the University.

In the fall of 1962 the first scraggy recruits showed up. There were no fields on which to practice. The gym was under construction, so Beta Hall, the men's residence hall at the time, served as the locker room until Mountclef Hall was finished that same fall. We started with two a days. There was no hot water in the residence hall. The practice field was a small grassy area located where Alumni House (the Pederson home) is now located. Eventually we were able to practice at Camarillo High School. Getting to practice in the bus affectionately called "The White Tornado" and driven by Norm Denison, was an adventure in survival in and of itself.

While the first team began its inaugural season with no home field, Orville Dahl, Bob Shoup, and representatives from the Los Angeles Times, were able to attract a new NFL team, the Dallas Cowboys, to the campus for their summer camp. Working with the Cowboys, the University was able to fast track the development of better locker room and training facilities as well as the creation of the first home field and adjacent practice fields on the north campus. For the next 26 years these two organizations, the CLU Kingsmen, and the Dallas Cowboys, grew into very competitive and nationally recognized teams. Each team reached the pinnacle of competition by winning their own versions of the national championship. The Cowboys helped put the city of Dallas on the map, and Kingsmen football helped to promote and develop brand identity for this new fledgling university in the southwest. Tom Landry was a man of faith and high spiritual values as was coach Shoup and coach Garrison. In fact the "Letterman's Club" as such organizations were called in those days, was named Chi Alpha Sigma, "Christians, Athletes, Scholars." Perhaps Chi Alpha Sigma can become a part of the foundation, history and tradition of The 5th Quarter.

The first season (1962) was the launching of the CLU football program. It was a bare bones program. There was no nickname or fight song. Facilities were limited at best. There was no home field, or a strong student and community following. Those things were being developed on the fly, or sometime in the future. However, in the great CLU tradition, players, coaches and students didn't know what they didn't have. The team's 1962 record 3-4, wasn't as important as commitment and dedication of those first players and coaches. Most of the players came from very competitive high schools and community college programs. They were used to winning and having great facilities, traditions, a fight song, a band and cheerleaders backed by a large and faithful student body that had come to the same home field for years. In 1962 neither the Cowboys nor the Kingsmen had any of those amenities, but it didn't matter. CLU players and those students and faculty were affectionately called pioneers. They pioneered. That's what they did. They laid the groundwork, they had high expectations and they established the mantra for a winning tradition that continues to this day.

The Year that Changed the World

The sixties followed the innocence of the fifties, and Cal Lutheran opened its doors to face realities and confrontations and exposures that would create a whole new paradigm shift. During the year of 1963, we saw the beginning of the civil rights movement and the assassination of John Kennedy, the emergence of the Beatles and the war in Vietnam. This was also the first winning year of California Lutheran football and the year that the Dallas Cowboys moved to Cal Lutheran as the home of their Summer Training Camp. From this first foundational group of players and coaches, and over twenty-five years of exposure to the very best of professional football skills and training methodology in the Dallas Cowboys, Cal Lutheran's winning football tradition was born.

Small School, Big Impact CLU Coaching Tree Branches Out In Every Direction

By Rhiannon Potkey, Ventura County Star

Pete Alamar hears it frequently during his travels...

The Stanford special teams coordinator could be attending a coaching convention, working a camp or on a recruiting trip.

Invariably, Alamar will be introduced to another coach with the accompanying tagline, "He's a Cal Lu guy."

"It's amazing the number of guys you meet or hear about that are from Cal Lutheran," said Alamar, a 1983 graduate of the university. "It might be a small school, but it has a pretty large coaching tree. A bunch of guys are doing a lot of really cool things in coaching."

Miami University in Ohio has been given the nickname "The Cradle of Coaches" for its rich lineage, but Cal Lutheran could be the Division III equivalent.

For a university with a current enrollment of only 4,205, Cal Lutheran has produced a large number of coaches who have reached the highest levels of football.

At least 10 Cal Lutheran graduates are coaching at major Division I programs or are members of NFL staffs this season.

Countless other graduates are coaching at Division II, Division III, NAIA, junior college and high school programs across the country.

"It is a very competitive business, and to see our guys represent the violet and gold at such high levels gives you a lot of pride," said CLU head coach Ben McEnroe, a 1993 CLU graduate. "I watch them on Saturdays and Sundays and pull for their teams because you feel like you have a vested interest. They are your guys and you want them to be successful."

McEnroe had to remain neutral on Saturday night when fourth-ranked Ohio State played No. 23 Wisconsin.

The Big Ten Conference showdown pitted Ohio State offensive coordinator Tom Herman against Wisconsin defensive coordinator Dave Aranda.

Herman graduated from CLU in 1997 and Aranda graduated in 1999.

Herman actually hosted Aranda on Aranda's recruiting visit, and the two have remained close friends.

"I would always call Tom and ask him about things because I knew he was going to be at the forefront of the offensive trends," Aranda said. "I knew he was going to be studying it and know the ins and outs of everything. He was always my go-to guy for information. We don't have those talks as much anymore, but I have always respected him for the help."

Ohio State head coach Urban Meyer described Herman as "one of the bright young minds in college football" when he hired the MENSA member away from Iowa State last season.

Herman's love for college football developed while he was playing at CLU. He considered entering broadcasting after he graduated, but decided right before his final semester to try coaching.

"I figured this would be something that would keep me close to the game," said Herman, a Simi Valley High graduate. "I was not good enough to play professionally, but I didn't want to lose that feel of being in a locker room and the camaraderie of a team. I figured I would give it a shot at a young age, and if I didn't like it I could always jump ship and go into the real world."

Herman started at the very bottom — even sleeping in the locker room as a graduate assistant at the University of Texas — but has made a swift ascent up the coaching ladder.

His arrival at Ohio State thrust him into the spotlight and put him on the short list of future head coaching candidates.

"Everybody asks me about the pressure all the time, but I had the same pressure on myself when I was a 23-year-old making $5,000 a year at Texas Lutheran coaching wide receivers," Herman said. "Anything you put your name on, I think you want it to be the best in the country, whether there are 110,000 in the stands or 800."

CLU developed into an incubator for budding coaches under the guidance of Bob Shoup. During his 27-year career, Shoup mentored his players on the field and schooled them in the classroom.

His guidance helped lay the foundation for Rod Marinelli's coaching career. Marinelli, a 1972 CLU graduate, has 37 years of experience, including 17 in the NFL.

He was hired as the defensive line coach for the Dallas Cowboys this season, and spent the summer in Oxnard training just miles away from his alma mater.

"Cal Lutheran couldn't have been a better environment for me when I got there because I really love this stuff and the guys were just great teachers," Marinelli said. "They did things the right way and were all about teaching and helping men grow. It was such a special place, and it doesn't surprise me how many guys come out of there and really want to teach that way as well."

Marinelli and former NFL wide receivers coach Mike Sheppard served as inspirations for Alamar when he entered the coaching ranks.

"As a young coach it was great seeing those guys having success," said Alamar, a Thousand Oaks native. "It told you it was possible to come from a small school and have a great career in the sport. If those guys could do it, maybe you could do it."

Alamar sent 50 letters to colleges across the country in search of his first job. He received 37 rejections, two maybes and 11 didn't respond.

He eventually talked his way into a graduate assistant position at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo — one of the schools that initially sent him a rejection letter.

Alamar is now in his second season at Stanford after previously coaching in the Pac-12 Conference at Cal and Arizona.

"Sending out those letters was a really interesting process. The one letter I did keep is the rejection letter from Bo Schembechler," said Alamar, referring to the legendary Michigan head coach. "Looking back on that now, I kind of laugh every once in a while about how it all started. It was a bit of an adventure."

Alamar graduated from Thousand Oaks High and CLU alongside Steve Hagen, who is the tight ends coach for the New York Jets.

Hagen epitomizes the nomad existence of a coaching lifer. He has held 16 jobs at 12 different colleges and with two NFL teams. Only once since 1983 has Hagen not been on a college or professional staff.

Hagen's older brother, Mike, a 1980 CLU graduate, is a longtime NFL personnel and scouting consultant.

Their father oversaw maintenance of the athletic facilities at CLU, and the two grew up on the campus.

Alamar believes a Division III atmosphere like CLU is a natural breeding ground for a career in coaching.

"Most guys that play small college football play football because they are passionate about the game," Alamar said. "They are smart enough to understand they are not NFL guys, but they are passionate about the game and that bleeds into what they want to do later in life. They want to remain a part of the game and want to share that."

Aranda had an injury-plagued playing career at CLU, and barely saw the field. But the coaching staff put him to work breaking down film of opponents and helping coach outside linebackers.

"I would be in a psychology class from 2:30-3:30 (p.m.) and then at 4 I had a linebackers meeting in that very same classroom," Aranda said. "I would go from the back to the front and that would be my linebacker meeting room. It was a great experience, and there are not a lot of spots where that could happen. CLU really prepared me for coaching."

McEnroe's former CLU teammate and roommate, Cory Undlin, is the secondary coach for the Denver Broncos.

Undlin began his coaching career at Malibu High before returning to CLU. He's in his 10th season in the NFL, including a one-year stint as the secondary coach for the New England Patriots when they won the Super Bowl in 2004.

"There has been a lot of hard work and dedication and sacrifice for Cory to get to this point," McEnroe said. "He is a grinder and a very detail-oriented guy. He is not going to be outworked by anyone. He is a guy who will sit there and try to figure things out until he has the answer."

Regardless of where they are coaching, the CLU graduates never lose their CLU bond.

They call each other for advice, visit each other to learn plays and recommend each other for potential jobs.

"We all really stay in touch. Everyone is a resource for each other. The connection is really strong and I think it's only going to get stronger," Aranda said. "The guys coming up now are smart and hungry and are willing to put in the time and work to get where they want to be, and once they get into it they will find out there are always guys willing to help them out."

The CLU coaching fraternity has even become a recruiting tool. McEnroe often shows recruits a presentation that includes the logos of where CLU graduates are working.

"We definitely use it to our advantage," McEnroe said. "If there is a kid who even thinks he wants to get into coaching, the sheer number of guys we have in college and the NFL is a big attraction because they can come here and tap into that network."

The demands of the job make it hard for the CLU graduates to return to campus very often for reunions.

But Alamar may have a solution.

"They could put on a heck of a coaching clinic just with Cal Lu guys coming back and speaking," he said. "I think that would be a big attraction."

THE CANDYMAN COMETH

He's Our Kingsmen Commander of the Candy Toss

How sweet it is! When the Cal Lutheran football team scores, everybody's sweet tooth gets satisfied by Karsten Lundring, a 1965 graduate of Cal Lutheran who has supported Kingsmen football for 54 years. His tradition of hurling candy into the stands every time Cal Lutheran scores began over 30 years ago. "Cal Lutheran scored a touchdown and I had a pack of Candy with me that I threw, and it's been a tradition ever since."

OUR MINISTRIES

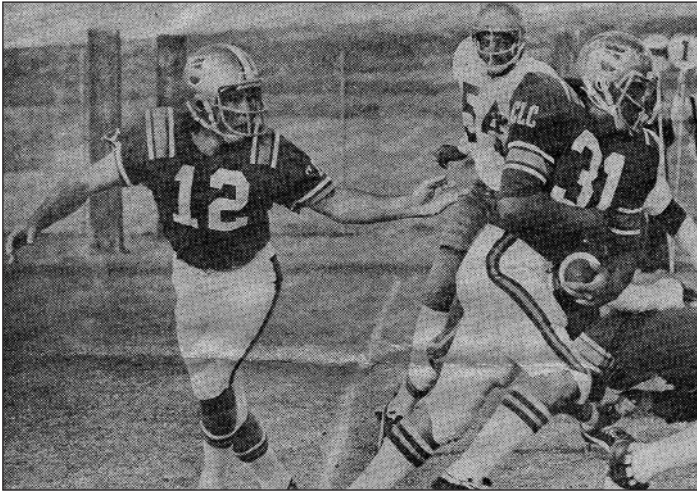

COACHES Ministry: Coaches are the heart of FCA. Our philosophy in Coaches Ministry is to minister "to and through the coach" to see transformation. FCA ministers to coaches through Bible studies, prayer support, discipleship and mentoring, resources, outreach events and retreats.

CAMPUS Ministry: FCA focuses on equipping, enabling, empowering and encouraging student-athletes, coaches and adult leaders to impact and influence their campus for Christ. This is accomplished through certified ministry that is initiated and led by student-athletes, sponsored by coaches, supported by staff, established on junior high, high school or college campuses and meets on a regular basis. There are four ministry types: Club Huddles, Team Huddles, Chaplain Huddles and Coaches Huddles.

CAMP Ministry: Camps are a time of "inspiration and perspiration." FCA provides athletes and coaches the opportunity to reach their God-given potential by offering comprehensive athletic, spiritual and leadership training in a camp environment. We create an athletic environment that produces spiritual transformation in the lives of coaches and athletes in a camp setting. These types of camps are Sports camp, Leadership camp, Coaches camp, Power camp, Partnership camp, Team camp and International camp.

COMMUNITY Ministry: With the majority of athletes playing sports in the community (non-campus programs), FCA is ministering to the club, recreational and youth sports teams with the goal of establishing on-going ministry for coaches and athletes to compete for Jesus Christ with character, passion and excellence. This includes any off-campus opportunities such as Team Huddles, Chaplain Huddles, Coaches Huddles, Club Huddles and FCA Sports Teams.

The Tradition Continues

Coach Lugo on 2023 Outlook

"Forward into battle go the Kingsmen, roaring out again to meet the foe!"

Coach Anthony Lugo is looking for a bounceback year for Kingsmen football in 2023 after a series of close losses led to a 3-7 record in 2022, and he's counting on some veteran leadership to put the program back on the rise.

Having welcomed 120 player, including approximately 70 letter winners, to fall camp, and praised his veterans for their hard work over the summer to get ready for the season. "We're really pleased with our senior leadership," he said, which showed itself in a newly introduced buddy system pairing up veterans with younger players, especially newcomers to the CLU program. The spirit of camaraderie was enhanced by having all the players bunk together in Mount Clef dorm for the first two weeks of camp.

One of the Kingsmen strengths in 2023 appears to be in the receiving corps, led by all-SCIAC second team tight end Jaden Cline, a 6-1, 220-pound senior who caught 27 passes for 280 yards and a pair of touchdowns in 2022. He's joined by senior slot back Julio Angel (6-0, 180), who caught 34 passes for 434 yards and four scores last year while earning academic all-district honors. Other key returnees are two other seniors, Connor Matzke (6-3, 200), who caught 14 throws for 142 last year, and Tyson Lundring (5-10, 175), who caught nine balls for 137 yards and a score.

As to who will be throwing to them this fall, that job appears to be a battle between two other seniors: JP Andrade (6-3, 215), who transferred in from Jackson State after spending three years at Ohio State after leading the state in passing in 2018 at Bonita High under the coaching for Kingsmen alum Steve Bogan, and James McNamara (6-1, 200), who completed two passes, one for a touchdown, last fall.

Running the ball appears to fall to senior Dante Coxson (5-8, 160) and sophomore Dylan Turner (5-9, 175).

The offensive line is led by two other veteran seniors, tackle Tanner Bradley (5-11, 285) and guard Max Thorne (6-2, 285). They're joined by a trio of sophomores: center Gavin Quiroz (6-0, 285), guard Caleb Alalem (6-0, 280) and tackle Gabriel Anguiano (6-2, 310).

On defense, the line in CLU's 4-2-5 defense is led by seniors, tackle Jackson White (6-3, 240), who also serves as the team's long snapper, and end Shaihi Baker (6-3, 240). They were joined by two sophomores, nose guard Hunter Hall (6-1, 295) and Devon Goosby (6-1, 235).

The inside linebackers are also sophomores, Arturo Orta (6-2, 225) and Jordan Gonzalez (6-0, 205).

Junior John Moore (6-2, 210) returns at cornerback after missing 2022 with an injury; he's joined by senior Sam Aseh (5-11, 195). Safety duties are handled by seniors Adam Herrera (6-0, 195) and Nlolan Jackson (6-0, 205) and sophomore Diego Herrera (6-0, 195).

Special teams were handled by two young veterans. Junior placekicker Daniel Burgos (6-0, 220) converted 26 of 28 PATs last year and five of eight field goal tries for a team-leading 41 points and outed 17 times for a 35.4 p-yard average. Sophomore Kyle Howie (6-0, 175) punned 23 times for a 42.4-yard average.

Kick return duties fall to senior Desmond Thompson (5-7, 170) and junior Cade Cadam (6-1, 185), who is also a member of the receiving corps.

Coaching Staff Biographies

ANTHONY LUGO: HEAD COACH/QUARTERBACKS COACH

A 15-year veteran of the Kingsmen coaching staff, Anthony Lugo was named interim head coach in May 2021. Just the fifth head coach in Cal Lu history, the interim was dropped from his title after the Kingsmen posted a 6-3 mark last fall, making him the only head man to post a winning record in his inaugural campaign. Working under longtime head coach Ben McEnroe, Anthony helped the Purple and Gold to four straight SCIAC championships from 2009-2012, a record 25 consecutive wins. The offensive coordinator for the previous five seasons prior to taking the head man job, he was the special teams coordinator and linebackers coach from 2013-15 and the secondary coach from 2008-12. Anthony graduated from Iona College in New Rochelle, N.Y. majoring in criminal justice. Originally from Los Angeles, Anthony resides in Glendora, Calif.

MICHAEL DIFIORI: DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR/ LINEBACKERS COACH

Michael DiFiori, who joined the coaching staff in the fall of 2021, brings a wealth of knowledge in his 30th year of coaching. He has been all over the coaching ranks, spending his last 22 years at Bishop Amat High School as the defensive coordinator. He was also a full-time chemistry instructor. He gained experience along his journey working at La Salle High School (offensive coordinator, 2006-07), Bishop (1999-2005, head coach), Temple City High School (1996-99, head coach), Bishop Amat (1992-96, defensive coordinator) and Saint Mary's College (1991-92, outside linebackers coach). His teams won 11 league titles and made 20 playoff appearances. His 1992 and 1995 squads were CIF-Southern Section champions, while his 1994 and 2006 teams were CIF finalists. He helped three teams to CIF semifinals and eight teams to the quarterfinals. DiFiori, a graduate of Concord De La Salle High School, has a bachelor's degree in biology and a master's in education from the University of California, Davis, where he played football. He is married to Dr. Jamie DiFiori and they have two sons, Nathan and Nicholas.

NOAH SUTHERLAND: OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR/ OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

Noah Sutherland promoted to offensive coordinator for the 2022 season, rejoined the Cal Lutheran football coaching staff in the summer of 2021. He was the tight ends coach in 2017-18 and offensive line coach in 2018-19. During his previous stint at Cal Lutheran, he coached two offensive linemen to second team all-conference selections, while the offense was second in the conference for rushing touchdowns. As the tight end coach, Sutherland helped a Kingsmen tight end lead the conference in touchdowns at the position. In between, Sutherland spent time at Northern Arizona University where he was the offensive assistant and coached the offensive line. He coached three All-Big Sky selections. In 2019, the offense was first in the Football Championship Series (FCS), fifth in total offense, 10th in scoring offense and 23rd in sacks allowed. Before Sutherland got into coaching, he played football at UCLA from 2003-07. He started 23 games at offensive tackle and guard and also saw playing time at defensive tackle and tight end. He was a member of the Leadership Council his junior and senior seasons. Sutherland continued his athletic career with the Oakland Raiders in 2008, going to rookie camp tryouts as an offensive. He graduated from UCLA in 2007 with a bachelor of arts degree in history in 2007, and added a master's of educational leadership from Northern Arizona in 2020.

LUIS VILLAVICENCIO: CORNERBACKS COACH

A star Kingsmen defender as Cal Lutheran was setting its record 25-game SCIAC winning streak, Luis Villavicencio joined the Cal Lutheran football staff in the summer of 2017 as cornerback coach. Not surprisingly, there has been a Kingsmen all-conference defensive back every year since Villavicencio has been on staff, highlighted by multiple All-American honors in 2018-19 and a Senior Bowl selection for Obasi Dees. Playing for the unbeaten Kingsmen SCIAC title teams in 2010 and 2011 Villavicencio earned All-American honors the latter season and All-West Region and All-SCIAC honors both years.

MATHEW SCIUMBATO: TIGHT ENDS COACH

Matheo Sciumbato, who attended Cal Lutheran from 2016 through 2020, started coaching football at CLU in 2019 as a student assistant working with the wide receivers. He became the running backs coach in 2021 and is currently the tight ends coach. Sciumbato played baseball for the Kingsmen for all four years, and was a member of the squad won the national championship in 2017 and of the 2019 team that was ranked No. 1 in the nation when the season was cancelled by COVID-19.

JEFF NIKORA: FB ASSISTANT OFFENSIVE LINE COACH/T&F ASSISTANT COACH/TROWERS

Jeff Nikora joined the Cal Lutheran track and field programs in 2017 as an assistant coach for the men's and women's throwers. In 2018, he was hired as an assistant offensive line coach for the football team. In track and field at Cal Lutheran, he has coached several student-athletes to top-10 marks on the program's all-time record list. He also has coached SCIAC champions and All-SCIAC and All-West Region honorees, as well as both Regal and Kingsmen of the Year. In football, he has coached several student-athletes to All-SCIAC honors. Prior to joining Cal Lutheran, Nikora coached football and track and field at Malibu High. In track and field, several of his athletes have competed in the California High School Winter Championships, Hammer Championships and the Junior Olympic National Championships. All the school throwing records are held by athletes he has coached. Nikora graduated from Brown University in 1984 with a double major in applied mathematics and economics. Captain of the indoor and outdoor track and field teams, he threw the hammer, 35-pound weight, shot put and discus. An honorable mention All-American in football, he attended training camp with the New York Jets.

BILL CULPEPPER: SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

Joined the Cal Lutheran football staff in the fall of 2015 and is the Special Teams Coordinator.

BOB MEADOWS: FACULTY ATHLETIC MENTOR

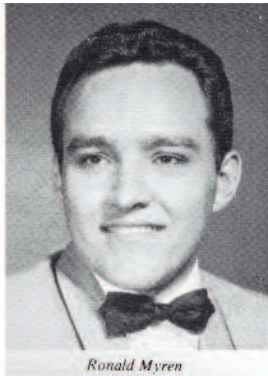

Robert J. Meadows is Professor of the Criminology and Criminal Justice. He also coordinates of the Legal Studies minor. He was formally department chair of Criminal Justice for over 10 years. Dr. Meadows received a Ph.D. in Criminal Justice from Claremont Graduate University and a Doctorate of Education (Ed.D) and masters degree (M.S.) from Pepperdine University. He received his B.S. from Northern Arizona University. Dr. Meadows has over 35 years of teaching, research and practical experience. Prior to teaching, Dr. Meadows worked as a police officer in Los Angeles (LAPD) assigned to patrol, accident investigation, and recruit training. Prior to CLU, he taught at Kent State University, Ohio, Appalachian State University North Carolina, and Glendale College, Glendale, California. Dr. Meadow's research and teaching interests include violence and victimization, legal issues in criminal justice, and comparative justice systems. He has authored a number of articles and books. His most recent book now in its 7th edition is titled: Understanding Violence and Victimization. Outside of academia, his interests are hiking, tennis, flying (private pilot) and travel.

MICHAELA REAVES: FACULTY ATHLETIC MENTOR

Dr. Reaves earned her Ph.D. in History from the University of California at Santa Barbara. She specializes in American history, with an emphasis in socio-cultural history. Her dissertation work was on the social organization of agrarian societies in California in the 1870s. She has published multiple articles and several reviews, including an essay for the Alexander Street Database on fractious farmers. Her book, Filling in the Pieces: Women Tell Their Stories of the 20th Century was published in June 2021, based on collaboration with class oral histories. She has been chosen Professor of the Year three times by the senior classes at Cal Lutheran and received the President's Award for Teaching Excellence. From 2008 to 2011, she collaborated with the Moorpark Unified School District to bring a Department of Education grant for Teaching American History to three local school districts. In 2011, the Central Intelligence Agency collaborated with her Cold War class to "Declassify the Cold War." Beginning in 2015, she has headed up the California Lutheran University Lecture series, with funding from 2018-2020 years coming from the Gladys Kriebel Delmas Foundation. With experiential learning a part of several classes, Dr. Reaves oversaw a grant in 2017 from the Library of America in Remembrance of World War I, which allowed for the creation of archives compiled from the stories of WWI veterans as told to their children and Cal Lutheran students. Last summer Dr. Reaves created lesson plans for "Global Washington" Situation Room Experience 2 (SRE2), titled "Washington's Cabinet," which are teacher-generated, written lesson plans to feature on new SRE2 website for the Ronald Reagan Presidential Library and Museum. Finally in 2020-21, "In Your Own Backyard: Civil Liberties Then and Now" a California State Library Civil Liberties grant will be used to create lesson modules covering five historical events that link the Japanese American incarceration to the civil liberties challenges of other communities and populations, including Hispanics, African-Americans, Chinese, and the mentally ill.

Don DeMars Memorial Award

This award is presented to an individual of the 5th Quarter Football Club that has deemed to have gone ABOVE AND BEYOND in the support of the efforts of the 5th Quarter Football Club and Cal Lutheran Football. The award bears the name of the second recipient to earn this award because of his exemplary support in both areas over the years. It is a pleasure to present the 2023 award to Ronald Myren in Memorium

Ronald Myren

IN MEMORIUM

Ronald Myren

SEPTEMBER 14, 1941 - JULY 6 2023

As a member of the Class of '69, Ron was an enthusiastic alum in many areas. He was a supporter and attendee of CLU's football games for many seasons. He served as Vice President on the board of the 5th Quarter Football Club. Ron's claim to fame was spearheading, cooking, and serving at tailgate parties before our home games. This has provided fellowship for many guests. In addition, Ron and his wife Christina (Class of '68) have hosting numerous reunion events in their home. Ron's signature homemade chili was a favorite of many. Thank you, Ron, for your hard work, generosity, and hospitality. You were definitely the guy who kept us on track with your "Ronald's Rules of Order."

The Davey Spurlock
Fighting Heart
Award 2023

Having a "Fighting Heart" describes a person who faces great adversity, but lines up anyway. One who courageously and passionately casts aside the fears, doubts and limiting beliefs to overcome and ultimately earn their success. And by their actions inspire others.

At Cal Lutheran we first discovered such courage, inspiration and passion in the life of a student named Davey Spurlock, for whom this honor is named. He overcame overwhelming odds that threatened his life, and went on to great accomplishments, both in football and in life.

Dane Griffin '18

Dane was a team leader and standout defensive lineman at Cal Lutheran. He finished his senior season with forty four tackles, and led the SCIAC with six sacks and nine tackles for loss. Dane was selected All-SCIAC in 2017 as a first team defensive lineman. As well, Dane finished the season with one quarterback hurry and two broken up passes. His standout performance that year was the final game of his career against Redlands where Dane had fifteen tackles and two sacks. Dane was also inducted into the CLU Scholar-Athlete Society for the 2017 season. He graduated from Cal Lutheran with a degree in Communications in 2018, and has been working in the medical sales industry. Prior to CLU, Dane played at Dixie State University and Moorpark College where he was selected as the 2015 Raider of the year and was named to the All National Conference team. He prepped at Thousand Oaks High School where he graduated in 2012 and was a three time All-Marmonte League Defensive Lineman, a first team All-County defensive lineman, and was selected to play in the Daily News All-Star game. He remains the all-time sack leader in the history of Thousand Oaks football and was selected to the 2010's All-Decade team as a defensive lineman.

Dane was born on December 10, 1993. He is the son of Robert and Dinah Griffin and has a sister named Sierra. Dane's favorite part of football was the brotherhood and sacking the quarterback. He is an avid skier and loves sushi and soccer. His favorite professional teams are the Chargers and Dodgers. Dane has a passion for serving others and has been active in volunteering for the Jewish Student Community.

A few months ago, Dane was diagnosed with Acute Myeloid Leukemia, which is an aggressive type of cancer that causes the bone marrow to make a large number of abnormal blood cells. He is currently undergoing several rounds of chemotherapy treatment at City of Hope and awaiting a match for a future bone marrow transplant. Dane remains optimistic and is responding well to treatment. He hopes to change career paths upon his full recovery and provide inspiration and hope for others battling cancer.

Senate Bill 230 – A Plan to Protect California

PROTECT CALIFORNIA

Senate Bill 230 will:

- Reduction of the number of high-risk events through improved quality and amount of training for public safety officers.
- Establish minimum standards for use-of-force / de-escalation policies and reporting procedures for increased consistency among law enforcement agencies of all sizes.
- Reduction of violent crime and the number of arrests.
- Passage of SB 230 will also provide standardized mental health crisis training for peace officers – much needed training we have been asking for!

Visit <https://www.protectca.com/sb230/> to voice your support for SB 230 and let legislators know where you stand!

CLU Fight Song

Lyrics by: Robert Zimmerman & Elmer Ramsey

Fight! Fight! Fight! Fight!
 On to victory show the C-L-U might!
 Dig in and take that ball right down
 the field again, send the foe into flight!
 We're here right behind you and our mind's made up to win!
 So, go! go! go! go!
 Go and get the score and our spirits will soar!
 Let's count down! 10, 9, 8, cast off!
 7, 6, 5, get set! 4, 3, 2, blast off!
 Go! and we are off to win the vict'ry today!

Hail The Kingsmen

Hail Kingsmen! Hail Kingsmen!
 Forward into battle go the Kingsmen!
 Roaring out again to meet the foe.
 Stand and cheer as they appear.
 Every loyal son will bid them go.
 Throughout the land our loyal band of Kingsmen raise their colors high for all to see. So! Give your all today -
 And once again we'll say -
 It's victory for CLU.
 Hail Kingsmen! Hail Kingsmen!
 Fight on to victory.

The Captains

Football Team Captains are elected by vote of the players or appointed by the coaching staff from the offense, defense and special teams based on leadership on and off the field. Their role on the field is nothing more than representing the team during the coin toss. If they are on the field during a penalty, they are typically the ones who communicate with the referee about accepting or declining the penalty.

Della Robbia Wreaths

from Boys Republic

Spectacular Decorations, Wonderful Gifts

Della Robbia Wreaths make spectacular holiday decorations for the home and office and wonderful gifts for family and friends. Colorful, fragrant and fresh, they feature lush Noble Fir boughs, succulent apples and lemons, and a rich assortment of natural seed pods, pine cones, and evergreen sprigs.

A Merry Christmas for You and Yours — A Second Chance for a Troubled Child

For all their natural beauty and traditional holiday charm, Della Robbia Wreaths are much more than just Christmas decorations. They represent growth, recovery and hope to more than 300 vulnerable boys and girls who each year receive shelter, guidance, education, and support from Boys Republic and Girls Republic.

A Gift Within A Gift

When you buy a Della Robbia wreath from Boys Republic or give one to a friend or associate, you also give troubled teens an opportunity to learn important work-related attitudes and skills.

Della Robbias are produced through a work experience program that teaches disadvantaged students the value of honest labor. From cleaning, sorting, and preparing seed pods to fastening them to wreath boughs, and, finally, to shipping the finished Della Robbia wreaths, students experience the stress of adult responsibility.

Order now to assure delivery early in the Holiday Season!

Della Robbia wreath orders are processed and shipped in the order received until we are sold out.

An order blank and return envelope are enclosed for your convenience. Additional orders may be listed on a plain sheet of paper, but please be sure to include all of the same information — especially your own name and telephone number.

Alma Mater

Lyrics by: Orville Dahl Music by Rossini

*Oh, summon your sons and daughters,
Your banners and flags unfold,
Call them to Alma Mater,
The violet and the gold,
California Lutheran,
College of our dreams,
Upon whose crested summits
Sunbeams dance and gleam.*

*Oh, summon your sons and daughters,
The 'circling hills enfold,
Near deep Pacific waters,
The violet and the gold.
Your love of freedom cherish,
Your love of truth prevails,
Your love of Christ merit,
Alma Mater, Hail! All Hail! All Hail!*
