

This is a disclaimer ...
REMEMBER you invited me here... So everyone and anything is fare game ... if you offend easily ... We will take a 30 second break for you to leave.

30 seconds is up
Let the games, the offending begin...

This presentation is visible in the written word, a format unfamiliar to some of you, SOOOO I don't want any of you "old-timers" (Trevathan, Fred, Davis, DeMars, Halweg, Engdahl, Fritz, ETC) raising your hands and asking ...

" what did you say " ... so turn up your hearing aids or read...

In May Bob Trevathan called me to be a speaker ...

I replied maybe?

Then he started to put the squeeze on me and said come out to Thousand Oaks and I'll buy you lunch .

Just meet me at my house, I'll give you directions
...just look for the couch on the front lawn

As you can see it was easy to find, I thought OMG this is definitely Bobby T's place I can tell by the outstanding aesthetic and artistic selections of materials and styles.

I went to the front door, knocked, and ...there he was ... the same old Bobby T ... hasn't changed a bit...

Standing before me in all his splendor...Nancy told me he even wears the helmet and those same stripped undies everyday and to bed everyday!!!!

At this point, he tells me ...“ I am opening a new chain of restaurants ...let’s have a “cocktail”, relax in the Jacuzzi and I’ll take you to lunch” ... so off we go .

Bobby T leads me to the back yard, slithers into the Jacuzzi and asks me to join him ...?????...NO WAY "JOSE"

LUNCH at Bobby T's new restaurant... the old WHITE TORNADO painted yellow restaurant, What a homecoming!!!!

another pressurizer to finalize my decision to be here, was none other than our life long friend
MELLOWKEMP

Fred called me , you all know what Fred is like on the phone... I have skype thusly we talked with pictures...When I saw him I exclaimed ...WOW Fred, GREAT THREADS , I see Don DeMars designs your wardrobes ...OH YES! Don DeMars, when Don Asks you... you can't say NO...For those of you who don't know , Mr. DeMars is a major force behind the existence and success of the 5th Quarter, without his 1000's of hours building the website and his research into...

- 1-pig farming,
- 2-the woman's football program and
- 3-womanizing in general...

...we all most likely would not be here.

He was an evolutionary genetic researcher in the development of all of... US...

which led to the evolutionary development of ...

the Football Player and the PIGSKIN or what has become known as the football...NOW DON was a forward thinker...

His womanizing... as noted in these 2 cartoons from the ECHO NEWSPAPER... led the way to his next venture...co-educational football

He tried to start a woman's football program ...all the athletes were for it...but the coaches ??????

SO just remember, even though he didn't succeed with woman's football program ...OUR GENETIC RESEARCHER DON , brought us our prize pig "BLUE" for pigskins, footballs and "blue slippers", and almost coeducational football...and NOW why I am here on this podium...

I have been asked to again make clear ...

The beginning of
CAL LUTHERAN COLLEGE (CLU) and
the FOOTBALL DYNASTY
1954- 1969

BUT , first of all, the real question for me was when, where and how did Cal Lutheran (CLC/CLU) and its FOOTBALL program
all begin?????

In the beginning there was much darkness throughout the Conejo (Rabbit) Valley

The local Chumash lived in the caves on Mt. Clef

The Catholics Missions came and brought “forced labor, starvation, disease, rape, pillage, slavery, incarceration, torture, execution and of course “CATHOLOICISM” and killed off most of the local Chumash

Mission Santa Barbara

"Forced labor, starvation, disease, rape, slavery, incarceration, torture, execution - these were commonplaces of Mission life."

- Herbert W. Luthin

Surviving Through the Days
University of California Press, 2002

Then the LUTHERANS (later to be known as the KINGSMEN) rode in and brought peace to the Conejo Valley .

In 1954 brightness began to creep in with CLEF being formed (the California Lutheran Educational Foundation) to establish a Lutheran College in the LA area

It all started with the Pederson family in the Garden of the Conejo... Here they received the divine message just before eating the fruit. That message was to give their land to CLEF, (the California Lutheran Educational Foundation).

And God was pleased and caused a mountain to appear and he named it Mt CLEF. It has always been a “hot” place, parked cars , blankets, Ripple, Boone Farms, etc. This photo was taken during the 1st meeting of the administration and the athletic department.

Behind the donor, Richard Pederson you see the site of Ventura (Fortune) University later to be “renamed” California Lutheran College and still later California Lutheran University

This is the whole campus, 130 acres donated in 1954 by Richard Pederson plus the 76 acres purchased from Dr. B.E. Albertson, totaling 206 acres. You can see the football programs office and the pig building to the right here we see Dr. Orville Dahl, the first college President, Pederson and Albertson discussing the location of the football field and the pig farm for the pigskins to make the footballs. The under funded Athletic Department had no money in those days so the first priority was to make their own "balls" (remember that pig research is what brought Mr. DeMars to the Conejo)...

Yes, the pig building...

so by 1961, from drawings to reality, the campus, the football program and the pig farm came to fruition

Here we see a glimpse Inside
The Pig Building

And our prize pig “BLUE”. That name would come in handy later with discovery of SLIPPERS in my hotel room in Colorado in 1964. Now you know the origin of the name of the “BLUE SLIPPERS”... What a small world ...”BLUE” the pig and “Blue Slippers”...Don has designed pig facilities all over the world...

“BLUE”

Facility” in Mexico City

THE VERY FIRST! YES THE VERY FIRST Professor to arrive on the then NEW California Lutheran College campus was none other than Dr. James Kallas....

This was on the last day of July in 1961, at about 11:00 am

- Dr. James Kallas played a key role in the formation of the athletic programs and helped recruit the first football coach, Robert “Bob” Shoup.
- Photo Credit, St. Olaf, 1949

- A former player for the Chicago Bears, James Kallas spent 17 years as the backfield coach and chaplain for the Kingsmen football team from 1961 to 1978. Here we see him disciplining a student at a game for not having his shirt tucked in. Kallas was a stickler for details.

In 1962, Robert “Bob” Shoup was framed for the head coaching position, and practices began... but rigorous discipline was always there !!!

With Kallas and Shoup always being sticklers for rules, we see them here, one week later in the Cafeteria...poor kid came to Wednesday dinner in jeans, they had the team string him up as an example to all "sinners" ...

The first day of practice. In order to meet NCAA rules all the players had to have academic eligibility, so Coach Shoup decided to give them all an IQ test. Could they spell CLC ?... and as you can see they all passed. Notice some of the players wore skirts. Coach Shoup was desperate that first year.
*...you may recognize one of the females in the front row ...
Caitlyn Jenner???*

With those high academic standards set...Football became an integral part of California Lutheran College

The second day of practice no uniforms, no pads and some even without shoes, but all determined to be the best!

This is the third day of practice with uniforms. Finally the players began to realize the intent of their labors on the pig farm. Coach put the pigskin down and they all gathered “round” it , afraid to even touch it. This gathering was also a chance for another intellectual assignment as coach spelled B-A-L-L, and with that , a lineman, Jim Tschida raised his hand and said , “Coach don’t go so fast, I am trying to take notes”. This was a bright group?! One lesson the team did learn was...

where to look for the answers and inspiration...

upward to the Heavens.

They overcame their fear of the pigskin by kicking it away...
punting... still no helmets and then place kicking it even though they didn't know what a touchdown was yet...

here we see George Engdahl still afraid to touch the ball with his hands but once they learned to run with it, they also learned the value of helmets and with that came the passing game ...

of course we didn't have a quarterback yet... the balls just came ...it was like divine provenance...as said in the New Testament, Matthew 7:7 ... “Ask and it shall be given to you ...seek and ye shall find...” You could hear the players out there screaming “give me the ball, GOD give ME the BALL”

Then we started to get what coach called quarterbacks to facilitate what was called the passing game...

Those days of the first practices were extremely elemental. The ball goes between the legs of the center and a player called the quarterback may hand the pigskin to a halfback or a fullback. The common question was what about the hands between the centers legs? You can understand why no one wanted to be the center or the quarterback. ...oops, there's the smiling center Cary Washburn

Here we see a half time meeting that first year, 1962, without a place to meet, actually without a place to play...the first games were at Camarillo, Oxnard and Port Hueneme high school fields . The coaching staff was Shoup, Kallas , Tshida, Haag ..., ...

As players we knew the necessity of a good pre-game meal from Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor

Or Orlando's Restaurant

House of Orlando staff

PIZZA SPECIALISTS ALL... see the staff of the House of Orlando. Each staff member has one goal, and that will be to make your Italian breakfast, dinner or snack a memorable occasion. Who doesn't love fine Italian food? Who doesn't love to visit the structure Orlando? The answer is, of course, a cozy Colosseum. In new open, adults only, please under the direction of a friendly newswoman, Doreen.

But is the mood for a pizza? Here about the Orlando: ground beef, onion, mushrooms, Italian sausage, chicken, Italian spices and seasonings rolled in egg dough and the whole thing is topped with tomato and mozzarella cheese sauce, baked and served in a casserole.

There is only one suggestion to be made for anything to follow an Orlando breakfast or dinner. Be certain to stop at the checkstand and pick up two loaves of crusty Italian round bread. Two loaves for 25 cents and you'll eat one loaf with an afternoon snack and the other toasted in the morning for breakfast.

House of Orlando is open from noon until 2 a.m. each day but Monday. On Saturdays and Sundays the pizza dough begins to rise at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

There is always food to go if you don't care to get the family all together in one place and dinner is at the

Refurbished Orlando's Offers Posh Colosseum Cocktail Lounge

THOUSAND STARS — it is doubtful that Tom and Don Orlando have ever witnessed the tradition of the Colosseum in Rome, or perhaps even the one seating 102,000 people in the center of another growing town, Los Angeles.

For the Orlando's have created their own Colosseum, and it bears absolutely no resemblance to the real and dusty open bowls of antiquity or their built-in marooned football games.

Their Colosseum is one of the oldest and poshest cocktail lounges around, and is about as far removed from any other type of Colosseum as may be imagined.

However, the newest addition to the plaza compound is the new front of the house of Orlando. For the Orlando brothers always cater to the active family from the highest one who orders his favorite "spaghetti" so hot who may order his plus a bottle of wine.

Everybody loves Italian food, and everybody loves Orlando's. The fabulous House of Orlando that opened with a six person staff six years ago, has now grown to a staff of about 20 and has been enlarged and revamped many times to suit its growing clientele.

The story of Orlando's began many more than six years ago as the fondest dream of the Orlando brothers who began the search for a community where they felt some kind of restaurant was needed and where they could families and associates would enjoy living and working.

House of Orlando began to take shape. From the three cornered fireplace to the stainless steel equipment and high priced seats.

From the very beginning Tom and Don have had the idea that the Colosseum belongs to the family and the main dining room of the House of Orlando belongs to the families that come in with numerous young girls orders in tow.

Adults who wish to temporarily get away from it all, however, find two rooms particularly suited for them, the Executive Room and, of course, the Colosseum.

For those who don't reach where they want to favor

Beginning in 1963 the team no longer had to play in “black and white” uniforms...color had arrived... and from what appears to be chaos the players played and set the Cal Lutheran Football Dynasty in motion.
